School reopens after mercury scare

Cleanup efforts at C.B. Murphy Elementary at Pearlington should be complete today

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

With a little luck - and a lot of hard work - students at Charles B.

Murphy Elementary School at Pearlington should be able to return to class Monday.

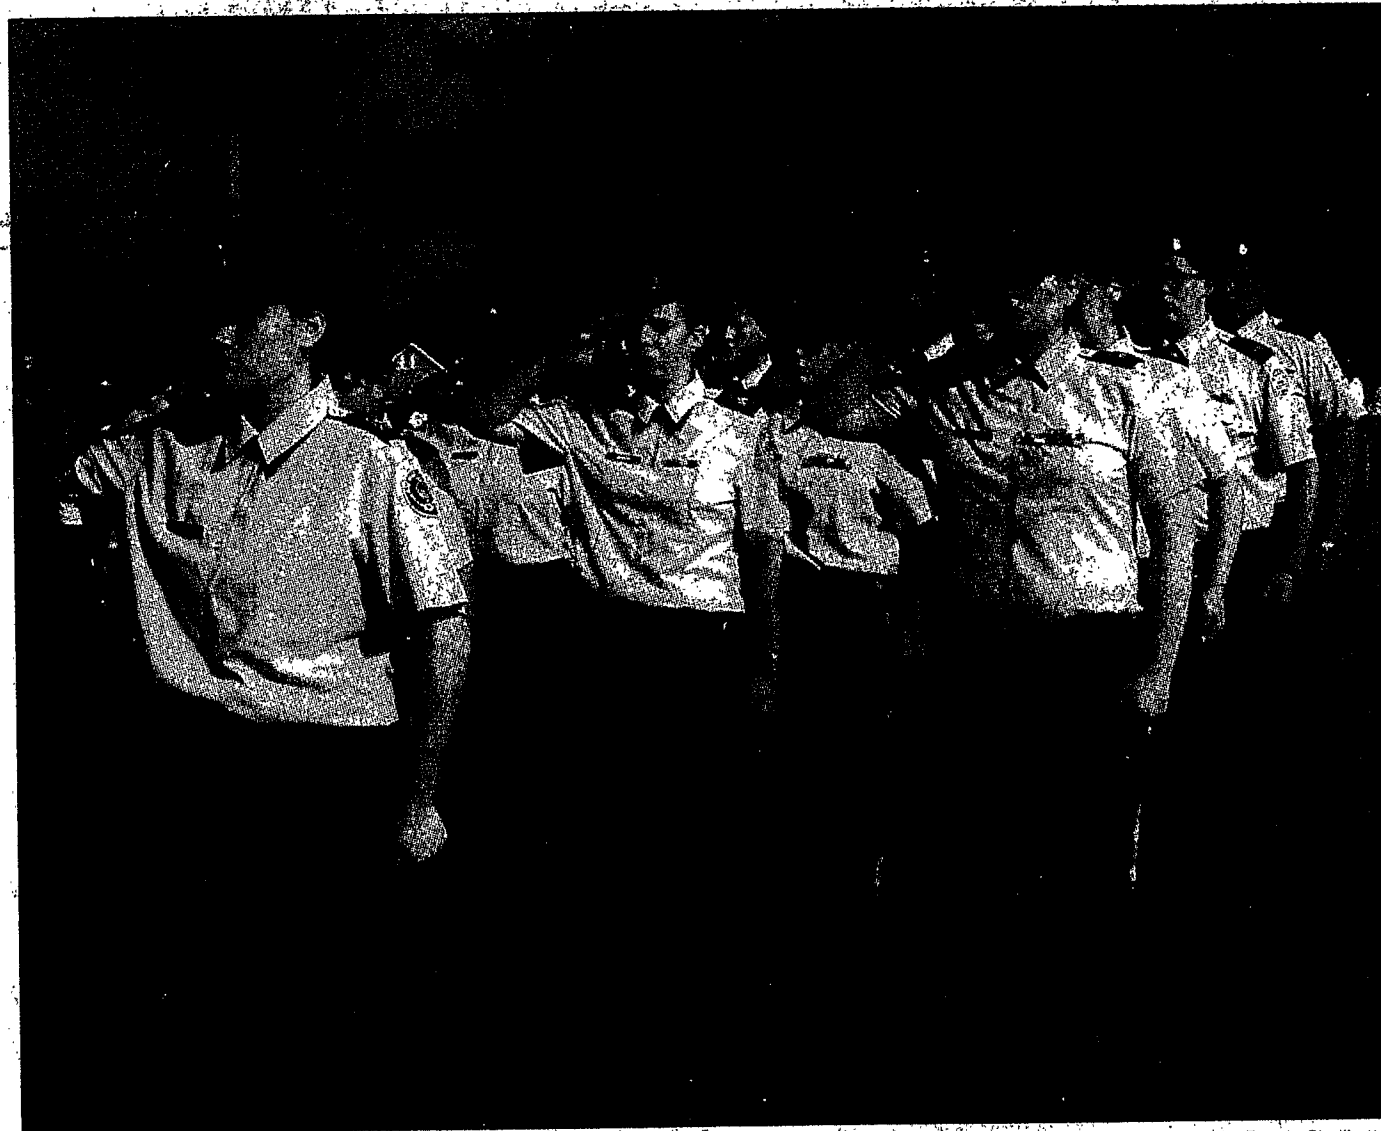

The school was shut down

Thursday and Friday after a student on Wednesday "informed the Hancock High School Principal's Office that over a three-day period several school buses (No. 69, No. 9, and No. 35) containing Hancock Middle School and Hancock High School students were possibly exposed to an unknown quantity of mercury."

School officials called in the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency, which in turn called in the Department for Environmental Quality (DEQ). The DEQ then called in the Environmental Protection Agency and the Louisiana-based U.S.

Bay's budget could shrink

Monday is state deadline for finalizing plan

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Staff Writer

Bay St. Louis officials have set a Sept. 15 special meeting to enact its new budget and set the taxation rate - with a hint that taxpayers may not be hit as hard as previously thought.

"We haven't got a final plan yet," Mayor Eddie Favre said last week. "We're trying to cut as much as possible...and we've already trimmed a pretty good chunk of it."

Favre made the comment to a citizen who showed up at Tuesday's city Council

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo encouraged those in attendance to take time to nurture their relationships with family, friends, and the community at large.

The solemn occasion was marked by prayers, patriotic and inspirational music by Bay High and St. Stanislaus bands, rifle salute, and a placing of a memorial wreath at the veterans memorial.

Hancock JROTC receives honors

The Hancock High School Junior ROTC battalion was recently recognized as Honor Unit with Distinction for the 2003-2004 school year by the Department of the Army. JROTC battalions that clearly demonstrate exceptionally high standards of training and motivation in all areas achieve this unique honor. This is the seventh consecutive year Hancock High's JROTC has earned this award. JROTC cadets are under the command of Chief Warrant Officer 2 James Lewis and Sergeant Major Larry Ladern.

Waveland board to approve $12.6 million budget at Monday meeting

Board faces criticism at last meeting for poor infrastructure

BY BENNIE SHALLEBETTER
 Staff Writer

The Waveland Board of Aldermen will approve a $12,657,519 amended budget for 2003/2004 tomorrow at a special meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Waveland Police Department.

At their regular meeting this week officials faced a myriad of criticisms by locals.

A room full of people complained on Monday about poor city infrastructure ranging from the condition of streets to drainage problems. City millage will remain the same at 22.625 mills.

One Brown St. resident said the city crews had not cut grass along the side of his road for two years though he had complained many times. He offered to cut the grass himself if the city would maintain it.

A resident from Broad St. said that ditches had been dug too deep and that water could not drain into culverts, leaving a constant supply of standing water which was a haven for breeding mosquitoes and other insects.

Another resident who said he lived at Brown and South St. said that area ditches were over worked and inadequate to drain the area leaving yards, and often garages and workshops, flooded.

The problem has become worse over the last three years the man said turning the area into an insect breeding swamp.

Poor street conditions were another sore topic. One woman complained of crumbling asphalt and potholes and another told officials that the city only patched the streets with poor materials that washed away during the first rainfall.

Marcie Lewis told aldermen that she believed that costs for poorly executed repairs to maintain streets would soon become more expensive than replacing the streets completely.

Nan Ehrbright suggested that officials invite the public in to the budgeting process early on so that people would have a chance to offer their suggestions as to how city money should be spent.

Not everyone came to criticize. Mary Sinderson from the Hancock County Library System commended the city for its support of the library.

She said library officials will begin right away to work with the city on hopes for the 2004/2005 budget and continue throughout the year, as they do every year. She suggested that anyone concerned with how the city budgets money think about doing the same thing.

In other business:

- Waveland Police Officer Bobby Gavagnie Jr. will be receiving the Valley Forge Award for saving a life during his service in the National Guard.

- Library officials reported that the new Waveland branch has greatly increased usage. Twice the number of people used the library in one week as in one month at the old library the report said. The first week that the library was open three quarters of the new DVD collection was checked out, the first DVD collection in the system.

- Aldermen voted to uphold a planning and zoning recommendation to deny a request from Gulfside Methodist Assembly for a special exception to the zoning ordinance for two blocks of land that they own located at the corner of South and Brown St. Gulfside had requested the exception to build senior housing, which brought on a frenzy of opposition from surrounding residents.

Food Festival

For the 21st consecutive year, Our Lady Academy in Bay St. Louis will host its International Food Festival nestled under the shade on the O.L.A. grounds at 220 S. Beach Boulevard.

The festival begins at 6 p.m. on Sept. 19 and continues through 6 p.m. on Sept. 21. This year will include great food, fun, craft booths and wonderful entertainment throughout the entire weekend. In addition to international foods (Italian, Oriental, Mexican, etc.), there will be funnel cakes, bloomin' onions, and much more.

Entertainment includes MJ the DJ (6-10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 19 and 12-5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20), Southbound (6-10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20), and Keith Hoda (1-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 21). All proceeds benefit Our Lady Academy. Everyone is welcome. For details, call 228-467-7048, ext. 10.

After Hours planned Sept. 18 on Coleman

Time to mark your calendar for Thursday's Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours.

Once again it will be a Coleman Avenue Block Party.

The sponsors for the big event are Ashman-Mollere Realty, Dixie Signs, Mombo Graphics and That Cute Little Shoppe with food provided by Rickey's Restaurant.

The Chamber's After Hours continue to grow and grow in numbers of persons attending which is very good.

There always seems to be very good refreshments and snacks.

Also folks have an opportunity of renewing old friendships and making new acquaintances.

Myself, I try to make every After Hours, in addition to several "impersonators," and you guys know who you are.

I hope to see you at the big Block Party After Hours Thursday evening.

It is still not too late to volunteer for the 16th Annual Mississippi Coastal Cleanup.

In conversations with Betsy Ashman, there are still several areas along Beach Boulevard needing volunteers for the cleanup Saturday, September 20.

John Rosetti, who is the Team Captain for Bayou

LaCroix can also use more boat volunteers. There are lots of waterways in the Bayou LaCroix area needing cleanups.

For further information, contact the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at 228-467-9048.

We need a large turnout for the cleanup next Saturday.

By the way, there will be free hot-dogs and refreshments beginning at 11 a.m. for volunteers at the American Legion property at the intersection of Washington and Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis.

What about the majority?

Some Americans feel the essence of America's freedom is its ability to protect minority viewpoints from the so-called "tyranny" of the majority's will.

Yet, I don't believe our founding fathers saw democratic, majority rule as tyrannical at all, but just the opposite — an expression of rule by the people. They trusted a majority of Americans to govern themselves.

Yet, some people today

what we can do to protect the viewpoints of a few, but by asking: what about the majority of Americans?

An overwhelming number of Americans oppose partial-birth abortion — a procedure by which a well-developed and oftentimes full-term child in the womb is extracted and killed using surgical instruments.

It's a grotesque operation which most health care professionals and ordinary citizens alike recognize as wrong.

Yet, a small but very vocal minority of Americans actually think this procedure is a good thing. They promote it, and argue on its behalf as if partial-birth abortion were something of which to be proud. In some states, they've had their way.

Partial-birth abortion is practiced. Yet, in most states, Mississippi included, partial-birth abortion is an almost universally despised procedure that doesn't have a chance of gaining widespread acceptance.

The Senate has considered another partial-birth abortion ban and passed it.

I say "another" because during the Clinton Administration both the House and Senate passed such legislation numerous times, accurately reflecting the majority of Americans' opposition to the practice. Yet, President Clinton ignored Congress and the

Waveland board should be congratulated

Re:Waveland Budget Hearing

Gentlemen:

At the Sept. 8, 2003, Aldermen's and Mayor's meeting, like recent public meetings, residents

The meeting was far from smooth, as Mayor Longo and Aldermen were besieged by a constant barrage of non-related questions and demands by some in the audience for their own agendas, failing to recognize that city officials must make their budget and other decisions based on the welfare of the entire city of Waveland, and not just selective and personal demands.

Do those that want to scrutinize the city budget have even the slightest conception what the city requirements or obligations are? Neither did I hear anyone from the audience commend our city officials.

The city obviously cannot spend all their resources on Brown and South Streets and the immediate surrounding area to solve problems that have existed for many years prior to the present officials' tenure.

Mayor Longo and the aldermen conducted the meeting in a professional and informative manner, yet not one word of approval to congratulate our city officials for their fiscal prudence and budget surplus in this day and age where most cities are running deficits. Were it not for the frugal abilities of our public officials, we would be in the Bay St. Louis position of a possibility of doubling the millage on our property taxes.

Our city officials made sound judgments and decisions on the rezoning issue, which concerned most of us attending the meeting.

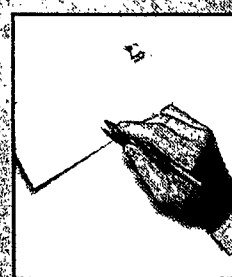

This lack of appreciation was embarrassing to many us who attended, and we would like Mayor Longo, the aldermen, the Board of Supervisors and the Planning and Zoning Commission to know that we support and appreciate their hard work.

25 years later, and still waiting....

Dear Editor:

For about 25 years my family has battled with the city of Waveland to have our street fixed, much less paved.

I personally have conversed with the supervisor, who was Ray Eaton at the time, for about four-and-a-half years now.

We have been given every excuse in the book why they will not pave our street.

Every year we are on the list, but for some reason every year we are cut from the list. Why does a citizen have to deal with a terrible dirt road, that the city won't grade or cut grass on a regular basis, for 25 years when it is within the city limits?

Once a year after I complain for two weeks is not enough.

Waveland fire chief receives honors

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Waveland Fire Chief David A. Garcia received the national Hurricane Conference Emergency Manager of the Year Award at the 25th Annual National Hurricane Conference in New Orleans.

"It was an honor to be nominated by Mayor Longo and Asst. Fire Chief Mike Smith for the award," said Garcia. "And an even greater honor to be chosen to receive the award by the award committee."

The award is given for outstanding leadership in mitigation, preparedness and emergency management. The conference brought together civic and state emergency planners, police, fire and EMS officials, government agencies and relief and recovery organizations for five days of training sessions workshops, seminars, and exhibits.

Seventy organizations showcased exhibits covering every aspect of hurricane mitigation, planning, protection and recovery. Workshops, training sessions and general sessions rounded out the week.

The opening session includes an overview of the 2002 hurricane season by the director of the National Hurricane Center, Max Mayfield. FEMA deputy director spoke on FEMA's role with hurricane preparedness and homeland security. Later sessions were held to discuss the lessons learned from Hurricane Lili on coastal Louisiana and Mississippi. A closing session highlighted the 2003 forecast.

Waveland Fire Chief David A. Garcia was recently re-elected as president of the Mississippi firefighters Association at their 66th annual conference in Southaven.

Garcia has been a member of the Mississippi Chief's and Firefighters Association for the past 17 years and has served as president for three years.

The 500 members of the association also voted, unanimously to make Garcia a Lifetime member in the Chief's Association, where he will be joining 14 other lifetime members.

"It is truly an honor to be re-elected to serve a third term as President of the association," said Garcia. "And I am proud to represent the many chiefs, fire fighters, investigators, marshals, co-ordinators, educators and training officers throughout the state of Mississippi."

The association also approved Garcia's request for the construction of the fallen firefighter memorial that will be built at the State Fire Academy in Jackson. The memorial will display the names of all firefighters who have lost their lives in the line of duty.

Garcia also said he wanted to give his thanks to local and federal legislators for improved legislation and to the support he has received locally from Mayor Tommy Longo, the Board of Aldermen, the Waveland fire Department and his son David Jr.

Moseley to be subject of local documentary project

Destination and Educational Videos of Biloxi has been awarded a $5,600 grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission, said Tim Hedgepeth, executive director.

The grant, a portion of the $41.1 million in grants the commission will award in 2003-2004, will be used to partially fund the production of a documentary about Alice Moseley, the South's renowned folk artist and storyteller in Bay St. Louis.

The project plans to distribute 500 free copies to public and school libraries in Mississippi along with a teacher's manual.

Videos will also be available online at www.DestinationVideos.org. The grants are made possible by continued funding from the Mississippi State Legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts. Hedgepeth said $1.1 million in grants was awarded July 1; the remainder will be distributed during the fiscal year.

"Without a doubt, high quality arts programs, organizations and individual artists enhance and even change lives throughout the state in thousands of measurable ways," Hedgepeth said. "Community involvement and legislative support propel these changes and affirm that the arts are essential to Mississippi's growth. Communities continue to show that area festivals, artist residencies, after-school programs, musical and theatre performances and arts programs serving at-risk youth are vital to their children's lives and education, as well as their area's economic development."

The Commission is a state agency that serves more than 1.7 million Mississippians through grants supporting programs to enhance Mississippi communities, assist artists and arts organization promote the arts in education and celebrate Mississippi's cultural heritage. Established in 1969 by the Mississippi State Legislature, the Commission is the official grantsmaking and service agency for the arts in Mississippi.

American people by refusing to sign the ban. Even now a minority of Senators are using procedural tactics trying to prevent the latest ban proposal from reaching this President's desk. However, I am confident the latest partial-birth abortion measure will ultimately reach President George W. Bush in the Oval Office, and the wishes of a majority of Americans to ban partial birth abortion finally will soon be honored.

That's a good thing. Most Senators and, I dare say most Americans, also want judges on the federal bench who interpret law rather than make law from the bench. Most Americans have no problem with strong religious men and women like Mississippi's Judge Charles Pickering serving on the federal bench. To most people, having men and women of strong moral and spiritual fiber as a judge is a positive thing. They want to see outstanding legal minds on the bench - people like Miguel Estrada, President Bush's outstanding Hispanic nominee for the federal bench. Even though both men have strong, majority support in the Senate, a few liberal special interest groups and their few Senate allies have prevented the full Senate from voting on these nominees. In the case of Miguel Estrada, he finally withdrew his nomination on Sept. 4. Even though most judicial scholars, Senators and most Americans feel he would be a good judge, Miguel Estrada - a Honduran immigrant who rose to graduate magna cum laude from Harvard Law School - will never have that chance because a small and vocal minority superceded the will of a majority, defeating him.

Judge Pickering's nomination remains on the table. Most Mississippians of all races, political backgrounds and economic backgrounds recognize Charles Pickering as an outstanding judge and exemplary human being. Yet a few Senators thus far have prevented his getting a vote by the full Senate.

They know a majority of Senators will vote to confirm Judge Pickering, but to them, their narrow political agenda seems more important. I hope they will allow Judge Pickering's nomination to move forward for the good of our country, and I will continue to work for his confirmation.

America could use a good dose of majority rule on these and other issues. It's time we started worrying less about the viewpoints of a few and started asking:

What about the majority of the American people?

25 years later

I know that we budget for paving every year, we had $12,000 for Ward 4 this year - $48,000 for the whole city.

Last year we had three times as much. Within the past eight months we have had approximately eight new houses in our one little block and still cannot get any work done on it.

We are on the city/country line and we have been put on the back burner for the last time.

Our city representatives don't return their telephone calls as they should - the alderman, the supervisor, and even the mayor.

We may not be important people to them, but they work for us, and our tax dollars pay their salary. They all seem to be too busy for the citizens of the city they work for.

Mr. Eaton is no longer with them, and they hired a new supervisor that I had to start all over with.

When I told him my situation his exact words were, "I know that you are on the edge of the city, and you will be missed so if you think you need to call the mayor then you just go ahead."

Now he has resigned and we are back to square one, AGAIN. I am a citizen of Waveland that wants justice for a paving job

The student body of East Hancock Elementary School assembled around the flagpole Thursday morning to honor those who lost their lives on Sept. 11 and to show their appreciation for the service men and women in our community. As Master Sgt. John W. Moak trumpeted Reveille, his fellow honor guard team from Keesler Air Force Base presented the colors and raised our nation's flag. Austin Ladner, a fifth-grade student council representative led the group in a moment of silence and in saying the Pledge of Allegiance. Music teacher, Shanna Boyer then accompanied the student body and visiting military as they sang America.

After the ceremony, principal Cheryl Ramseyer invited the members from the Navy SeaBees and Seals, the Sheriffs Department, the Diamondhead and the Kiln Volunteer Fire Departments, the Waveland Police Department, and the Air Force to view the school's Yellow Ribbon Memory Wall.

Each group was then taken to the classrooms where students presented them appreciation baskets filled with such items as homemade food, puzzle books, coffee, gum, popcorn, and thank-you letters.

Budget -- Bay St. Louis

meeting to inquire about a pending budget proposal that would almost double city taxes: from 10.5 mills to 20 mills.

In addition to Favre's budget presentations at open council meetings, there have been several closed door sessions to hash out details of personnel costs in the new plan. Whatever items that council members have agreed to "trim" have not been made public at this point.

Monday, however, is the state-mandated deadline for enactment of the fiscal 2004 budget. Council's special meeting is set for 5:15 p.m. to adopt the spending plan and set the millage rate to support it.

As it stands, Favre has outlined a $10.9 million budget, about $700,000 more than this year's spending level.

Key items causing the hike include a new $230,000 debt service on a $2 million street paving bond issue, $100,000 in additional health insurance costs, $200,000 to repair city buildings and $130,000 in labor costs for the street paving project.

In addition, officials have budgeted some $140,000 to $150,000 to cover costs of city employee raises: an average of $1,050. Employees got no raises last year, and the mayor says the city is offering salaries far below other area jurisdictions.

Favre said if the city does raise its levy from 10.5 mills to 20 mills, over half the levy will go toward debt service cost (11.28 mills) and the city-county library (2.67 mills). That means the city will collect only 6.05 mills as actual operational funds, he said. He also said the new 20-mill levy will be the lowest municipal levy on the Coast, and one of the lowest in the state.

Even as he laid out those arguments during a public hearing Monday, several citizens urged council to hold the line on taxes. There were suggestions that the city consider consolidating services with the county, or merging with Waveland, to economize.

Favre said those possibilities have been studied in the past, and there have been some areas of consolidated services achieved with the county.

Annexation also is being actively pursued, to give the city room to grow. Council went behind closed doors Tuesday night regarding the annexation lawsuit that's pending in Chancery Court.

If successful, the city would triple its boundaries, taking in the Highway 603 commercial corridor all the way to Interstate 10 and beyond, with developed and undeveloped lands reaching to the Jourdan River.

There is competition, however, with Waveland for the commercial territory that Bay St. Louis is seeking. A Chancery Court hearing on the Bay's lawsuit is set for Oct. 13.

In unrelated business Tuesday, council deferred action on a proposed moratorium on "transient" vendor sales during Cruisin' The Coast, Oct. 6-12. Local established merchants and Cruisin' officials want to restrict outside vendors during the intense festivities downtown.

In another matter, council discussed the future of Scianna Lane in Ward 1. A narrow, deteriorated street that connects to Drinkwater Boulevard, Scianna Lane will serve as a future outlet for a new medical office complex under construction. Favre said he's repeatedly stressed that traffic from the medical office complex won't be allowed to enter or exit on Scianna Lane until the street is either widened (as slated), or made a one-way route.

Residents of the lane have objected repeatedly to increased traffic on the street from the bustling medical community. The new medical office complex, however, is under construction and includes a new street connecting Highway 90 and Scianna.

City officials say they will block the connection with Scianna until it is widened or made a one-way route.

throughout the Coast, and is touted as "the planet's largest volunteer cleanup effort on behalf of the marine environment." Beginning at 10 a.m., the office of Congressman Gene Taylor will provide free hot dogs for volunteers at Washington Street and the Beach in Bay St. Louis. Da Beach House is providing complimentary fruit smoothies.

Governor Ronnie Musgrove signed a proclamation in support of the annual event, which is celebrating its 15th anniversary.

"The beaches and bayous of the Mississippi Gulf Coast are among our state's most precious natural resources," Governor Ronnie Musgrove said. "The Mississippi Coastal Cleanup Day is a great opportunity to preserve them and make sure they are enjoyed for generations to come."

On cleanup day, zone captains will be stationed at each site in bright yellow T-shirts to direct volunteers and give them trash bags, data cards, pencils, safety gloves donated by Memorial Hospital at Gulfport, bottled water compliments of the Mississippi Soft Drink Association, and a free beach tote provided by Chevron Pascagoula Refinery. Following the cleanup, volunteers must show their T-shirt as a pass for a free lunch of hamburger ers, chicken sandwiches, potato chips and Coca-Cola products at Outback Steakhouse in Gulfport between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. only the day of the event. Last year, Outback served a free lunch to 1,280 participants in two hours!

In 2002, 3,500 volunteers collected more than 50,000 pounds of trash. For more information call the Mississippi Coastal Cleanup Info Line at 1-877-9 CLEAN 5 (toll-free in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties) or visit the official MS Coastal Cleanup web site at www.masgo.org/cleanup and download a registration form. Volunteers under age 21 must have their parents sign the registration form and submit it prior to cleanup.

Volunteers will pick up marine debris at more than 60 designated coastal cleanup sites (zones) in all three counties and the barrier islands. Designated cleanup areas are as follows: Hancock County - Bay-Waveland Beaches, Garden Isle Community, Ansley/Heron Bay, Coleman Avenue (Waveland), Lazy River Road, Shoreline Park North East, Shoreline Park South East, Harbor Drive-Bayou Phillips, Kiln, Diamondhead, Bayou La Croix and Clermont/Lakeshore.

To volunteer, please contact the Hancock Chamber at 467-9048.

Environmental Services. Those agencies, in conjunction with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Mississippi Regional Poison Control Center, performed meticulous sweeps of the three affected schools; and worked to identify any students who may have been at risk for mercury exposure.

Hancock Emergency Management Director Brian Adam said last week that a student had a small amount of mercury in a bottle "and was playing with it."

Two classrooms and an office at Hancock High were decontaminated on Friday and slip mats were removed as a precaution at Hancock Middle School, according to an EPA Region 4 report distributed by the school district. School district Personnel Director David Kopf said Friday that the cleanup at Charles B. Murphy should be complete by around noon today.

Acute exposure occurs when an individual is exposed to a high dose of mercury over a short period of time, including but not limited to when children come across mercury and decide to play with it, ingestion of mercury, or air-borne contamination from excessive mercury vapors.

Symptoms of acute mercury exposure usually begin with a cough, chest tightness, trouble with breathing, and upset stomach.

According to the EPA report, "The metallic mercury found at the schools and on buses is a shiny, silver-white, poisonous, odorless liquid ... at room temperature. If heated, it is a colorless, odorless gas. Mercury can be found in thermometers, barometers, thermostats, dental offices, blood pressure devices, fluorescent light bulbs and even in some tennis shoes that light up."

As of Friday afternoon, Kopf said, there had been no reports that a student, faculty member or district employee had been exposed to the substance or shown any symptoms of exposure.

The district set up a collection center at Hancock Vo-Tech to receive clothing, shoes and backpacks from the students on buses 9, 35 and 69 that may have been contaminated.

Although there was only a small amount of mercury, Kopf said, "Even a little can cause big problems. ... We're taking this very seriously."

For further questions on mercury contamination, contact the Emergency Management Agency at 228-467-9226.

Obituaries

JOHN WILLIAMSON JR.

John A. Williamson Jr., a resident of Diamondhead, died Saturday, Sept. 13, 2003. He was 72.

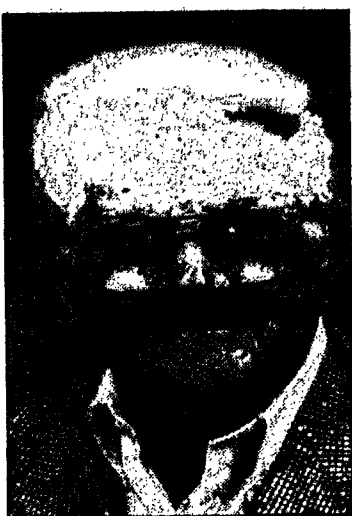

Mr. Williamson, a native of New Orleans and a past resident of St. Charles Parish, lived in Diamondhead for many years.

He began his career in the grain business, and was president of the South Louisiana Grain Inspection & Weighing Board, Inc. in Destrehan. He also served as president of the National Association of Chief Grain Inspectors.

Most recently, Mr. Williamson was a real estate broker associated with Coldwell Banker Coast Delta Realty in Diamondhead.

He is preceded in death by his parents, John A. and Eva Kleffer Williamson Sr.

Survivors include his wife of 54 years, Margaret Johnson Williamson; his brother Robert G. Williamson of Mandeville; sister Eva Mae Jones of Zachary; six children, including Catherine Williamson Blouin of New Orleans, Clay Williamson of LaPlace, Matt Williamson of Mandeville, Claire Williamson Johnson of Jefferson, Wendy Williamson Connolly of Westfield, N.J., and Eva Williamson Mangunu of Kenner; and 12 grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at the Diamondhead Community Church on Tuesday, Sept. 16, at 4 p.m., and friends and family may call starting at 2 p.m.

The family prefers donations to the Diamondhead Community Church or the charity of your choice.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home of Bay St. Louis is in charge of arrangements.

Library's preschool story hour schedule

Going Quackers is the theme for the preschool story hour at the Waveland Public Library on Tuesday, September 16, at 10:30 a.m.

Jamie Elston, HCLS Community Services Coordinator, will read Giggie, Giggie, Quack, To Market, To Market and The Surprise Family are the books to be featured during the program. Children attending will receive a color sheet.

Favorite Stories will be highlighted at the preschool story hour at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Wednesday, September 17, at 10:30 a.m. Susan Daigre, program coordinator, will read There was an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly, Julius, Jammer and Are You My Mother? Children will have fun with color sheets.

Colors is the theme for the preschool children's story hour at the Kiln Public Library on Thursday, September 18, at 10:30 a.m.

Brown Bear Brown Bear, Go Away Big Green Monster and The Crayon Box That Talked are the books to be read during the program. Children will learn a song and receive color sheets.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one half hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group. For individual branch story hour information, contact Jamie Elston, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282; Sandra Ladner, Kiln Public Library, 255-1724, or Karen Cotton, Waveland Public Library, 467-9240.

Great Books to discuss Oscar Wilde play, 'A Florentine Tragedy'

A Florentine Tragedy by Oscar Wilde is the title to be discussed by the Great Books Discussion Group on Wednesday, September 17, at 7 p.m. The group meets in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

This selection is from the current volume, 24 Favorite One Act Plays. Several copies are available for checkout at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library. The Great Books discussion group, sponsored by the Hancock County Library System has been meeting and discussing books since March, 1990. During that time, they read more than 345 titles from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke, deTocqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions. The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The Great Books Foundation was established in 1947 by University of Chicago Chancellor Robert Maynard Hutchins. Its mission is to provide people of all ages, backgrounds and walks of life with the opportunity to read, discuss and learn from outstanding works of literature.

Today, more than 20,000 adults are members of Great Books discussion groups, and nearly one million students participate in Junior Great Books groups for grades kindergarten through 12.

Anyone is welcome to attend the meetings. The only requirement is that you read the selection before the meeting. For information, call Sheila Cork at 467-5282.

Speakers are as follows:

Otis Wayne Benefield
"Ben"

To those who knew and loved him, "Ben." This soft spoken, ham connoisseur, motorcycle jockey, superior garbologist, and many things to many people, was above all a true Southern Gentleman. Ben, the little boy, who with wild and wide eyed anticipation pulled a small white ball of fluff, who he had saved from an uncertain fate, out of his pocket and with all the beguiling charm he could muster asked, "Carla, can we keep it, it followed me home?" It would later be named "Bunnie."

Being from the South, we often have a penchant for the obvious. Ben was no exception. After having watched some news article, where millions of tons of flour had been dispatched to some sunbaked, parched and foreign country. He would ask the question, "What are they supposed to do, spit and make a biscuit?" Or when someone was passing judgement on another, his "infamous," "Its his mouth if he wants to haul coal in it."

Like all of us, he lived his life dancing in a circle with small side steps and waltzes to touch a life or to rescue the unsavable. The dance is done and we simply "Become."

Mr. Benefield worked for Gulf Coast Recycling which services Bay Saint Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead. To the citizens in Hancock County, he was known as, "Ben." August 20, 1948 - September 2, 2003.

BUSINESS NEWS

Wal-Mart Supercenter to open Wednesday

Thousands of shoppers from throughout Hancock County are expected to converge on Waveland's new 24-hour Wal-Mart Supercenter, which will celebrate its grand opening Sept. 17 at 7:30 a.m. on 460 Highway 90.

In addition to the announcement of community grants and introduction of store managers, the grand opening ceremony will feature the national anthem "by a choir of Wal-Mart associates. The Bay High, School Junior ROTC, led by Chief Peters, will present the colors, and a naval group stationed at the Stennis Space Center, will conduct an interactive exhibit on site. Mayor Tommy Longo will attend the morning ceremony.

The Waveland Wal-Mart Supercenter, encompassing more than 205,902 square feet of retail space and employing upwards of 450 associates, will offer customers a full line of groceries and general merchandise under one roof at Wal-Mart's signature Every Day Low Prices.

A number of specialty shops will be housed in the new Supercenter, including a Tire & Lube Express, vision center, McDonald's, nail salon, hair salon, one-hour photo-processing lab, portrait studio, Connections Center electronics store, Family Fun Center, pharmacy and dell. The Supercenter will feature eight self-checkout lanes, and a Murphy's USA gas station will be located in the Supercenter parking lot.

During the grand opening Wal-Mart associates will contribute more than $8,000 to area non-profit organizations through Wal-Mart's Good Works community involvement program. Last year, Wal-Mart contributed $3.5 million to Mississippi community organizations.

A partial listing of organizations in the Waveland area receiving grand opening contributions includes:

- United Way of South Mississippi Inc.
- Children's Hospital Inc.
- Hancock County-Toy Fund
- City of Bay Saint Louis Police Dept.
- Coastal Conservation Association
- City of Waveland Fire Dept.

The Waveland Wal-Mart Supercenter associate team will be led by store manager James Ray Cox and co-managers Jessica Lewis and Darren Skipper.

Fire department uses grant monies for needed equipment

Fire departments infrequently receive grants, either federal or state, but with the increased homeland security measures throughout the country, Bay Saint Louis received $48,800 to improve its fire-fighting communications.

Grant funding was received from the Federal Emergency Management Agency, through its National Fire Service division.

No additional city funds were needed to assist in the purchase of new communication equipment for the departments' breathing apparatus. Twenty-two additional portable radios were purchased to enhance the lines of communication between command and the firefighter on the scene.

A thermal imaging camera, also purchased with grant monies, will assist lead firefighters in identifying dangerous situations cloaked in darkness, smoke or other vision inhibitors.

"We are very grateful to receive this 2002 grant assistance and hope that we will receive additional equipment funding as it becomes available in late 2003," said Chief Robert Gavagnie. "This equipment keeps our department on the cutting edge of technology, reducing the risks of injury or death to firefighters and improving our skills in protecting the lives and property of our citizens."

Hawks race past Greyhounds in homecoming thriller

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The fans who packed "the Nest" Friday night for the 2003 homecoming at Hancock High School, were treated to one of the very best football games in recent history.

The Hancock Hawks (2-1) defeated the Ocean Springs Greyhounds (2-1), in a 19-18 thriller, that featured several big plays, hard hits, great emotion, and five lead changes, before a frantic finish when the game was decided on the second to last play of the game.

"This game was everything it is supposed to be, I'm so proud of my kids, they earned this win and really worked hard this week," said Hawks head coach Rocky Gaudin.

The Hawks were full of emotion to start the game. The Hawks defense stuffed the Greyhounds first drive as Jonathan Lacoste and Matt Rayborn made stops, and on third down Charles Bolden sacked Josh Jones for an eleven yard loss.

A thirteen yard punt return by David Brown gave the Hawks the ball at the Greyhound 30. On the Hawks first play Jeremy Thomas pitched the ball to Robert Domke, who threw deep for Steven Dauenhauer who hauled in the catch for a 30-yard touchdown. Justin Ratcliff added the point after, and the Hawks had a 7-0 lead with 9:41 to play in the first quarter.

The Greyhounds were not intimidated, as the turned to Junior Travis Williams. Williams, who is one of the most talented players on the coast, plays both split end and quarterback, and had over 200 yards of total offense in the game. Williams ran three times for a first down, and the Williams dialed long distance, as he hit Josh Purvines for a 66-yard touchdown. The snap on the extra point was low, and Gerald Adams and Eddie Bledsoe caused a bad throw by the holder to stop the conversion. With 7:26 to play in the first the Hawks led 7-6.

The Greyhounds stunned the Hawks on the next drive, as a blocked punt was covered in the endzone by John Sablich, for a Greyhound score. The Greyhounds went for two, but Braxton Necaise stopped Andre Watson before he could get in. The Greyhounds had taken a 12-7 lead at the 4:41 mark of the first quarter.

The Hawks caught a big break, as Watson fumbled a punt at his own ten, and Wesley Oliver pounced on the ball for the Hawks.

The Hawks gave the gift right back, however, as Adonis Washington fumbled, and Matt Sepe recovered for the Greyhounds.

The Hawks defense hung tough, stopping the Greyhounds after two first downs. Domke swatted away a pass on a fake punt, and the Hawks took over at the 42.

The Hawks took advantage of the field position, as Thomas hooked up with Myron Fairley for a 17-yard pass. Bledsoe then exploded for a 20-yard rumble, giving the Hawks a first down at the 16. Thomas then pitched to Brown who broke a tackle, and scampered in for a 16-yard touchdown. The Hawks missed the conversion, but took the lead 13-12 with 5:17 to play in the half.

The Hawks stopped the Greyhounds next drive thanks to a leaping interception by Bledsoe, at the 10.

Four plays later, however, disaster struck the Hawks, as another blocked punt gave the Greyhounds a first down at the Hawks six.

Watson punched in a one yard touchdown with just :28 seconds to play in the half, and the Greyhounds took an 18-13 lead into the half.

The Hawks that came out to play the second half, must have reminded the homecoming crowd of Hawks teams from years past. The Hawks defense was stifling, as the Greyhounds did not gain one single yard of offense in the third quarter.

The Hawks twice made the Greyhounds punt from inside their own ten. Matt Rayborn had three tackles for losses, and Donald Hains, Domke, and Tyler Ball had big tackles to dominate the line of scrimmage.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Hawks put together a nice drive. Washington ran for seven yards and Thomas scrambled for nine yards and a first down. Thomas connected with Brown for a nineteen yard completion to the sixteen, but the Hawks turned the ball over on downs, at the 15.

The Hawks defense once again was equal to the task, as Jarrod Barrios and Lacoste stopped Williams on first down. On second down Hains crushed Williams for no gain. On third down Rayborn poured in to stop Jones at the six. The Greyhounds punted, but this time the Hawks got a break, as Lacoste tipped the punt, and the ball went out at the 16.

The Hawks took over with 9:18 to play, and it was time for some old fashion smash mouth football. The Hawks' offense line of Scott Neson, Dale Stennett, Donovan Saucier, Russel Tanguis, Travis Hall, Johnathan Luc, and Gerald Adams, opened up some huge holes, bringing back memories of "The Trenchdiggers", from a few years ago.

Bledsoe ran for eleven, and after a penalty Brown ran for eight more. Bledsoe capped the drive with a two yard score, and the Hawks had retaken the lead with 7:44 to play. The two point conversion failed, but the Hawks led 19-18.

The Greyhounds could not move the ball on the Hawks defense, as Daniel Spiers knocked away a pass, and Hains and Barrios stooped Williams to force a punt.

The Hawks took over at the 32, but an interception of Thomas by Jones gave the Greyhounds the ball back with 3:39 to play.

The Greyhounds picked up a first down inside the Hawks 20, but Williams would fumble, and Tyler Ball pounced on the ball at the 18 for the Hawks.

The Hawks ran the ball with Domke who came up just inches from a first down with :58 seconds to play. The Hawks decided to punt, and trust their defense. Brown got off a good 44-yard punt, and the Greyhounds took over at the 31 with just :48 seconds left.

A great game deserved a great finish, and the drama grew as Williams scampered for an 11 yard run, and then passed to Watson for 12 yards. Williams then scrambled for 12 yards, and the Greyhounds had a first down at the 35 with :22 seconds to play.

After an incomplete pass, Williams scrambled, and threw deep for Watson in the endzone. Brown was there for the Hawks, and made a diving interception to seal the victory for the Hawks with just :04 seconds to play.

"Our defense really showed some heart, and it was a great team effort," said Matt Rayborn who had 10 tackles, including two sacks and five tackles for losses.

Donald Hains had eight tackles, Bolden had seven tackles and a sack, Domke, Barrios, and Lacoste had six tackles each.

On offense, Bledsoe led the way with 57 yards rushing, as well as an interception. "We really wanted to win our homecoming game, we made the plays, and wore them down," Bledsoe said.

The Hawks are now 2-1 on the early season, and will travel to Milner Stadium in Gulfport next week to play the Gulfport Admirals.

Last minute field goal crushes Rock upset bid

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Long Beach Bearcats preserved their undefeated record and improved to 3-0 with a 17-15 win over St. Stanislaus on a 24-yard field goal with :04 left in the game. The winning kick by Fredy Howe was set up on a personal foul penalty called on the SSC sideline followed by two Pat Ferrell passes to Clayton Stevens.

Both quarterbacks, SSC's Tim Kulikowski and Long Beach's Pat Ferrell, lit up the airwaves in Bay St. Louis on Friday night. Ferrell completed 15 passes in 44 attempts for 287 yards and two touchdowns. He also was intercepted twice. Kulikowski threw for 199 yards on 15-of-34 passes and one touchdown.

However, it came down to penalties and mistakes when deciding the outcome of the game. Long Beach was flagged 10 times for 110 yards while SSC had 10 yellow hankies pulled for 77 yards. It was two crucial personal foul penalties late in the fourth quarter that doomed SSC. Those two penalties, coupled with two fumbles and a missed tackle in the first half, spelled defeat for the Rocks.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann commented, "Fumbles and a missed tackle in the first half led to Long Beach's points. Penalties and not playing smart football set the stage for their only points of the second half. We have to play smarter football to win games. This was a tough loss for us. And, we are thankful that it is not a district loss. We had several players compete well tonight; however, playing smarter football is what we must work on. We have a big game on the road coming up against Ocean Springs. We let one sneak away from us tonight."

The Rocks and the Bearcats each punted away on their opening possessions. The Rocks fumbled the ball away on their second drive which stopped a drive that featured two sharp passes to Mike Cure and Floyd Dedeaux from Kulikowski. Cure led the Rocks in receiving with 7 catches for 103 yards and a score.

The Rocks' Zach Elkins intercepted a Long Beach pass on the next drive to give the Rocks a second chance at the endzone. The Rocks looked as though they were poised to punch the ball in after two nice gains on pass plays to Spencer Ziegler and Mike Cure that covered 19 and 21 yards, respectively. But, the Rocks fumbled the ball away on the two yardline. It marked the second game in which the Rocks lost the ball inside the opponents five yardline.

Long Beach capitalized with a 74-yard bomb to Clayton Stevens with 1:05 left in the opening quarter. The PAT by Howe missed leaving the score at 6-0.

The two teams traded their next possessions. SSC got the ball back on the Long Beach 41 yardline. On the ninth play of the drive, Michael Kivlan lined up for a 30-yard field goal which split the upfights with 4:19 left in the first half making the score 6-3.

On their next possession, Farrell had two huge gains through the air with Stevens. The first play went for 31 yards and two plays later the pass was for 46 yards and a score. The two-point conversion by the same combination was good making the score 14-3 with 2:02 left in the first half.

SSC put on a show with their two-minute drill. Kulikowski hit Cure for gains of 11 and 10 yards before hooking up with Dedeaux for a 25-yard gain. Two plays later, SSC found the endzone but it was called back due to a penalty. However, on the next play Cure hauled in a 17 yard scoring pass from Kulikowski with :04 left in the half. The two-point conversion missed and the halftime score was 14-9.

The Bearcats did not score in the second half until the decisive kick was made with :04 left in the game.

SSC's defense led by J.C. Brignone, Jordan Ellis, Lee Klein, and Michael Cure helped stack up the Bearcat offense in the second half of play. The three former players made several key stops early in Long Beach drives. But, the decisive hits came from Cure who was relentless with his body and delivered several bone-crushing hits in the second half.

The third quarter was scoreless for both squads; however, Kivlan kicked a 34-yard field goal for the Rocks with 11:04 left in the game to make the score 14-12.

On the ensuing possession, SSC's Rob Smith almost took a handoff from the Long Beach quarterback which forced a fumble which he recovered at the Bearcat 32 yardline. The Rocks pushed the ball down to the Bearcat two yardline behind the powerful legs of Matt Hoda. The Rocks settled for a 19-yard field goal despite moving the ball down to the two yardline. With 7:57 left in the contest, the Rocks owned a 15-14 lead.

In the hole, Long Beach went to the airwaves with Farrell completing five passes in the 12-play drive. The Bearcat drive ended in the endzone with Dedeaux intercepting a Farrell pass for a touchback.

After Long Beach turned the ball over, the Rocks found out just how costly a deadball, unsportsmanlike penalty can be. It pushed the Rocks back forcing them to punt the ball away.

SSC was flagged for another costly 15-yard penalty following what everyone in the stadium thought was a sure interception by Anthony Taylor. However, an official had a better look at it. The automatic first down gave the Bearcats knew life and they marched right down the field.

With :04 left to play, Fredy Howe lined up for his game-winning 24-yard field goal. It was an ugly, squib kick but had the distance for the difference in the score.

Michael Cure led the way receiving with 103 yards on 7 catches. Kulikowski threw for 199 yards and a touchdown. Farrell had 287 yards passing on 15-of-44 passing.

Defensively, Lee Klein led the way with 10 tackles followed by Jordan Ellis with 9 total hits. The Rocks travel to Ocean Springs to do battle with the Greyhounds on Friday, September 19. Kickoff is set for 7:30pm.

Pirates down Eagles 24-14

BY STEVE SMITH
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Pass Christian Pirates traveled to Gulfport to face the St. John Eagles Friday at Milner Stadium, notching their first victory of the 2003 season with a 24-14 win. Coach Bo Vonderbrugge's young team had four turnovers, but maintained focus and persevered.

"We put the ball on the ground a few times, and we need to eliminate those errors," Vonderbrugge said after the game Friday.

St. John returned the opening kickoff to the 20 yard-line and lost a fumble to the Pirates on second down. Unable to produce a first down, Pass High's Jonathan Willis kicked a 40-yard fieldgoal and the Pirates took an early lead, 3-0.

Pass High blocked a St. John punt on the next series and gained good field position, only to be backed up by St. John and forced to punt. St. John also had to punt on the next possession and the Pirates took over at their own 40 yard-line, moving quickly to the St. John 21 yard-line with a 39 yard pass completion to Brandon Miller. A Pirate fumble on the next play ended the drive.

St. John quarterback Paul Roberts, completed a pass to Ro'Man Martin for a first down at the Pirate 44 yard-line, but a Justin Furby sack and a holding penalty pushed the Eagles back and forced a punt. A low snap and a short run gave Pass Christian a first down at the St. John 44 yard-line. With freshman quarterback Ryan Davis behind center, the Pirates moved 27 yards on a completion to Chad Musgrove and Chuckie Woods scored on a 14-yard run. Jonathan Willis' kick made it Pass High 10, St. John 0, with 8:47 remaining in the first half.

After a St. John punt, the Pirates penetrated to the Eagle 22 yard-line, only to lose the handle again. St. John's next punt put the Pirates at mid-field where Ryan Davis connected with Aaron Saucier on a 53-yard touchdown pass. Willis' kick made it 17-0, Pass Christian with 2:10 to play in the half.

That lead held until St. John took advantage of good field position late in the third quarter, moving 45 yards in four plays, Ro'Man Martin scoring on a three-yard run. The kick was good and the Pirate lead was cut to 10 points.

Pass High stalled out on the next drive and punted away, giving St. John the ball on their own 20 yard-line. Ro'Man Martin broke loose for 67 yards and a first down at the Pirate 13 yard-line, and Paul Roberts scored on a keeper from the five. With a good point-after kick, the Eagles pulled within three points, at 14-17.

The Pirates moved from their own 35 to the Eagle 22 yardline, before a Jeffrey Hillard pass was intercepted. The Eagles turned it right back over on a fumble and Pass High cashed in with Chuckie Woods scoring from the 21 yard-line on the option from Hillard. Willis' point-after closed the scoring and sealed the victory for the Pirates, 24-14.

Pass High had 134 yards rushing, 99 yards passing and 9 first downs.

Blue Devils run for 300 yards, rip Tigers 59-31

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Bay High Tigers traded leads with Pearl River Central three times in the first half, all in the first quarter, but the Blue Devils stole the momentum late in the second quarter. At that point it was a bit too much for the Tigers to overcome in their 59-31 road loss at Carriere on Friday night.

One of the most dramatic plays of the Tigers' young season turned out also to be the most bizarre, following a Pearl River field goal that extended the home team's lead to 23-17. Lorenzo Lewis took a screen pass from Zack Ferry behind the line of scrimmage and stunned the homecoming crowd with a dazzling run, shaking would be tacklers for 57-yards and a touchdown. But it was all for naught; a yellow flag near midfield, thrown for an illegal block in the back, nullified the score.

On the very next play, Ferry was caught in the backfield and the ball was jarred out of his grasp and recovered by the Blue Devils at the Tigers 27 yardline. The Blue Devils converted on a fourth-and-12 situation before kicking their second field goal of the second quarter with just two ticks remaining on the clock, giving the Blue Devils a 26-17 halftime lead.

"I think that was the turning point," said a disappointed coach Glenn Williams. "With a minute left in the second quarter, we score a touchdown and get it called back. So instead of going up by one point, we fumble the next play and they recover and go up by nine."

The Tigers were outscored 12-0 in the second quarter. In addition to the two field goals, Seth Guidroz carried for a 1-yard touchdown run early in the quarter.

The Tigers defense struggled with a potent running game that accounted for approximately 300 yards on the night.

"Their toss sweep gave us considerable problems tonight," added Williams. "We did a couple of things in the second half to slow them down, but we're going to have to get better at our perimeter game."

The Tigers got going early as Air Ferry showed they could play on the road. Ferry launched a beautiful spiral to a wide open Lewis on stride for a 70-yard touchdown to open the night's scoring. Kyle Moran converted on the PAT kick to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

The Blue Devils tied the score with some homecoming dramatics with a long pass for the score.

Lewis again added some dramatics with a 68-yard kickoff return, giving the Tigers excellent field position at the home team's 30 yardline. Moran kicked a 30 yard field goal to give the Tigers a 10-7 lead with 10 full minutes remaining in the first quarter.

Pearl River came back with a 43 yard touchdown pass to take the lead at 14-10 with just over eight minutes remaining in the first quarter.

The Tigers traded possessions with the Blue Devils before the last fireworks of the first quarter went off. Kyle Moran read the eyes of quarterback Adam Robin and got between he and the receiver, picking off the signal caller at the Blue Devils 15 yardline and dashed to the endzone, giving the Tigers a 17-14 lead with just over a minute to play in the opening quarter.

Pearl River led 46-17 before the Tigers would score again. Lewis added another dramatic kickoff return of 40 yards and then capped the drive with a 14-yard reception from Ferry for the score. The Tigers succeeded with a two-point conversion and trailed 46-25.

The Tigers final score on the night was a 41-yard touchdown pass play from Ferry to Lewis midway through the fourth quarter.

The Tigers are 2-1 going into next week's district opener at Pass Christian Friday night.

Volleyball update

The Bay High Lady Tigers defeated the Biloxi Lady Indians 15-1, 15-2 Thursday night. Lindsey Trotter was high scorer for Bay High with eight points, followed by Tori Lansaw and Heather Ladner with seven each. Tamara Reed had ten assists and Kendra Reed had eight kills as the Lady Tigers improved to 9-1 on the season.

The Bay High junior varsity also won, 15-1 and 15-7. Nicole Eley was high scorer with 12 points.

Bay High will host cross town rival OLA Tuesday with the JV game starting at 6 p.m.

OLA defeated Pope John Paul II on Tuesday, September 9. The Crescents dropped a match to Chalmette on Thursday, September 11.

OLA won 15-10 and 16-14 for the 2-0 sweep on Tuesday. The opposite occurred on Thursday, September 11 with a 15-5 and 15-4 loss to Chalmette High School.

OLA head coach Mike Meyers stated, "We had a good match against a good Pope John Paul team. It was a good win for us. We did not play well against a good Chalmette team on Thursday. We passed the ball well against Chalmette but we had trouble stopping their offensive possessions."

The Crescents will square off against the Lady Tigers of Bay High on Tuesday, September 16, at the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium.

The Lady Hawks of Hancock stopped the Oak Grove Lady Warriors 15-13 and 15-8 Thursday night. Kandace Boos led Hancock with 14 points.

The Hancock junior varsity also won 15-4, 9-15 and 15-5. Katrina Zahniser had 12 points for the junior Lady Hawks.

Hancock also defeated the Lady Tigers of Hattiesburg 15-1 and 15-2 on Tuesday. Tiffany Appel had 14 service points for Hancock.

Hancock also got the win in junior varsity action 15-3 and 15-1. Katrina Zahniser and Hillary Pagano both had 10 points.

Wildcats win 3-1

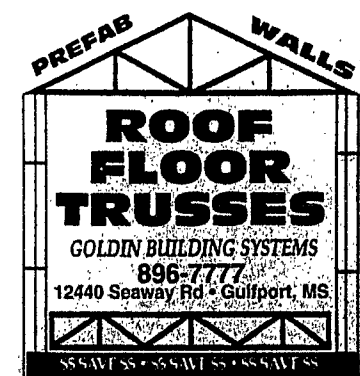

GOODMAN-Pearl River Community College's Wildcats won their fifth straight soccer match up with a 9-1 victory over MACJC rival Holmes.

PRCC improved to 5-1 with the victory, while Holmes dropped to 2-3.

Walt Thomas of Petal put up Pearl River's first point midway in the first half, but Holmes' Anton Klinger tied it up minutes later before Drew Gallant of Forrest County AHS scored back-to-back goals to give the Wildcats a 3-1 edge at the intermission.

Bubba Dedeaux of Oak Grove added two more goals in the second half, while Josh Grajewski of Picayune High, Jeffrey Hansell of St. Stanislaus, David Levens of Long Beach, and John Briscoe of San Antonio, Fla., contributed one goal a piece.

COMMUNITY

Achieving Level 5 LOCAL SCHOOLS STRIVE FOR 'PERFECTION'

PASS CHRISTIAN

Story and photos by
SHANNON JENKINS

Being one of only two school districts in the state to achieve a Level 5 status is something the Pass Christian School District can boast about.

Both the high school and elementary school, which are located across the road from one another, have signs announcing their status to passing motorists.

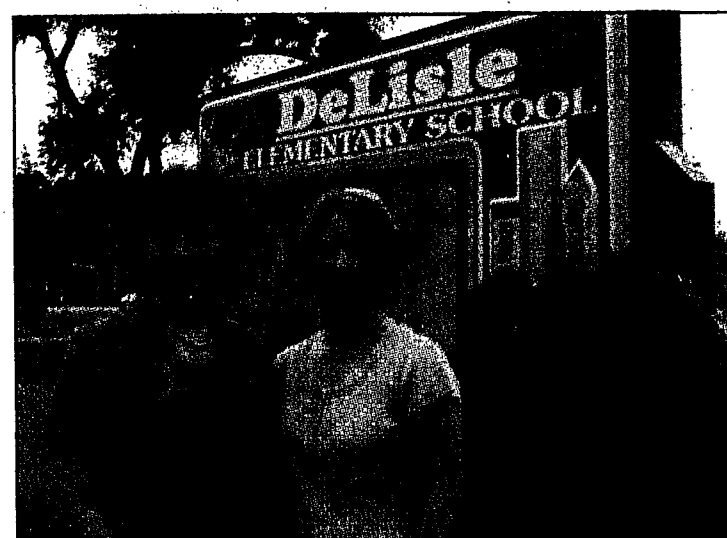

Newspaper clippings hang from doors along the hallways and teachers and principals are eager to share the good news.

It took several years of hard work for all four of the district's schools to reach this level.

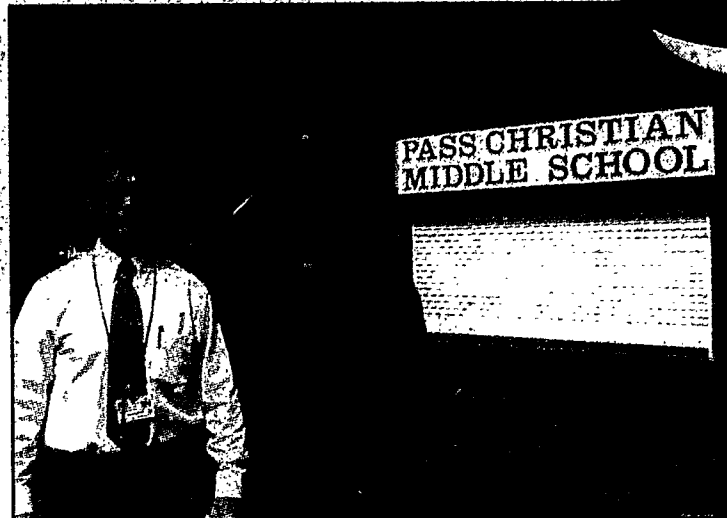

"It takes years of improvement efforts that are directly related to student achievement to attain a Level 5 school accreditation rating," said Dr. Sue Matheson, superintendent of education. "Superior schools establish a vision of excellence, have shared, clear goals and high expectations for all teachers, administrators, students and parents. Professional development is on-going and includes training and immediate, sustained implementation, including collaboration and peer coaching. In addition, Level 5 schools must have strong parental and community involvement."

The schools must also have good teachers.

"The teachers in our district focus their time and efforts on meeting the academic needs of every child in the school," Matheson said. "They understand that children learn in different ways and continuously discuss, plan, implement and review curriculum and instruction to better meet the needs of all learners. Our teachers are committed to excellence and are genuinely concerned about the social, emotional and academic well-being of their students."

Rebecca Montgomery, president of the Pass Christian School Board said many factors contributed to all four schools receiving Level 5 status.

"First of all, the groundwork for our current success was laid many years ago," she said. "Dr. Terrell and his team took the strengths of the district and the accomplishments of our previous superintendent, Leroy Lizana, and laid the foundation for the district."

Montgomery said the district developed a strategic plan with the help of all segments of the community, and the implementation of that plan and the continued improvements formed the basis for everything that the district has done.

"We have hardworking students and parents who work side-by-side with a dedicated and professional staff, teachers and administrators, a supportive chamber, businesses, a civic club and church leaders," she said. "The end result is that we are a caring community, and our success results from a collaborative effort."

The citizens of Pass Christian passed a bond issue a few years ago of over $10 million, Montgomery said.

"The community was involved with all aspects of planning our renovations to our existing schools and the

Dr. Kim Stasny, superintendent of education, said achieving Level 5 status at a school requires dedication and commitment on the part of school personnel and support from central office administrators, the school board, and parents.

"At the school level, the principal must be a strong leader for the teachers and be familiar with current research and best practices," she said. "The teachers must be focused on the material to be taught in the classroom (curriculum), be sensitive to meeting the needs of each child assigned (to him or her) and be open to making the necessary changes in instruction to be successful."

Support staff members such as assistant teachers, secretaries and janitors assist in the school's status, by making the school a place where learning can take place — the school is clean, safe, orderly, and focused on learning, Stasny said.

"Central office staff and school board members are external to the team effort within the school so their role becomes one of support by making sure resources are available to the school," she said. "Resources may include money for instructional supplies and textbooks, funding to hire additional teachers to lower the teacher/pupil ratio, salary increases to recruit highly qualified teachers and professional development

In the Hancock County School District, Hancock High and East Hancock Elementary scored perfectly for a Level 5 status.

Peggy Ladner, president of the school board, said hard work and commitment on the part of the administration, coordinators and teachers were instrumental in the two schools' achievements.

"Many new programs and effective training have been implemented in the last few years," she said. "At the elementary level, the shortfalls in reading and writing were aggressively addressed."

Ladner said it was gratifying to be a part of Hancock High and East Hancock's status.

"Becoming a Level 5 District was my main goal when I was elected to the board," she said. "Seeing the commitment of the teachers in our other schools, I know we'll be Level 5 district-wide soon."

She said Hancock North Central Elementary and Hancock Middle were "very, very close" to receiving a Level 5 accreditation.

"Some of the new programs recommended to the board by the superintendent, (Mike Ladner), were quite costly, but everyone worked to get these into the district," she said. "Seeing the benefits to our children by their test scores, we can see it was money well spent. It not only benefits the students, but the growth of the community as well, which means a building plan for future growth of the district will need to be addressed soon."

Hancock High

Donnie Gholston, principal, said it took a commitment to excellence in academics by parents, students and staff to achieve Level 5 status.

"The teachers are the most important part of the school's opportunity to deliver instruction to its students," he said.

Greta Ainsworth, the Algebra I teacher, said teaching at Hancock High School is a wonderful experience.

"The administration is supportive and treats us professionally," she said. "We are encouraged to learn and grow as professionals, and we are given the freedom to be creative in the classroom. As teachers, we work together by sharing ideas and information with each other."

She said the students helped achieve Level 5 by being respectful and well-behaved.

"I believe they greatly contributed to our school being a Level 5 by being open and eager to learn," Ainsworth said. "They are hard workers, and they willingly accept the challenges that are placed before them. I also (believe) we have many supportive parents in the community who encourage their children to be the best they can be."

Lori Moran, a senior and cheerleader, said the student body is blessed with an abundance of wonderful educators.

Coastal Health Center celebrates 25 years with open houses along Coast

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The 25th anniversary of the opening of Coastal Family Health Center (CFHC) will be celebrated with open houses in each of CFHC's clinic sites on Wednesday, Sept. 24, between 1 and 4 p.m.

Patients, staffs and boards of community agencies, elected officials and the general public are encouraged to drop by. Tours will be conducted, free blood pressure checks will be offered and refreshments will be served. Coastal Family Health Center, organized by local citizens under the leadership of Back Bay Mission and during the administration of mayor Jerry O'Keefe, was established with a special focus on providing access to primary health care (family practice, internal medicine and pediatrics) to families who had no private health insurance and inadequate income to purchase care from private providers. Today, the program provides services to families in a five-county area including Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Greene and Wayne. One of the clinics is located in Bay St. Louis.

Coastal Family's services now include medical, dental, optometric, pharmaceutical, substance abuse counseling, WIC services (a nutrition program for children and pregnant and lactating women) and social services. Although all services are not offered at every site, patients can seek care from sites other than from their clinic.

Special emphasis is placed on nutrition counseling, preventive health care and patient participation in maintaining healthy lifestyles.

Coastal Family Health Center has experienced phenomenal growth over the past 25 years. Currently, Coastal employs 190 staff members, including 32 primary care providers (physicians, registered nurse practitioners, dentists and a psychiatrist).

There is a monthly average of 10,000 patient visits in the clinics located in the Coastal counties. The center welcomes all patients regardless of income or health insurance status (private, Medicare, Medicaid or none).

It is not a free clinic, but charges fees scaled to income. Coastal provides free care to the homeless and operates special clinics for HIV+ patients. For those with incomes at 200 percent poverty level and above, fees are consistent with fees charged by other physicians in the community.

For more information about the open house on Sept. 24 or the services offered, call Joe Dawsey, the executive director of CFHC, at 228-374-2494 or Karlyn Stephens, board president, at 228-392-2070.

The Arts group to meet at Waveland Library

The Arts-Hancock County will hold its monthly general meeting at the newly refurbished and reopened Waveland Library, Coleman Avenue, Waveland on Sept. 24 at 6 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Prima Plaque, the Director of the award-winning Hancock County Libraries.

The Arts-Hancock County is a growing organization of people in the arts and lovers of the arts. Membership has its perks and the Member's Directory is just one of them. Come find out what's up in the arts, in The Arts-Hancock County.

For more information, visit our website at: <http://thearts.hancock-county.org> or call (228) 467-1007.

Blood drive scheduled Sept. 21 at Annunciation

Annunciation Catholic Church in Kiln, will host a blood drive with The Blood Center in an effort to support the community blood supply. The blood drive will be held at the Annunciation Parish Hall on Kin-DeLisle Road on Sunday, Sept. 21, from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m.

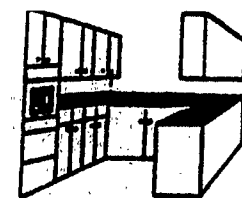

As a non-profit community service organization, The Blood Center depends on the generosity of volunteer blood donors to supply more than 40 hospitals in South Mississippi and Southeastern Louisiana with the blood components needed for area patients.

The Blood Center would like to invite those 17 years of age and older, weighing at least 110 pounds and in good health to lend an arm and help save a life.

During this drive, donors will receive a T-shirt, a free cholesterol screening and refreshments to thank them for their generosity and commitment to saving lives in our community.

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Pearl River Community College is a participating institution in the American College Testing (ACT) program and serves as a testing center on all national test dates.

The ACT Assessment includes four curriculum-based tests that measure students' educational development in English, mathematics, reading and science reasoning.

Each of the ACT tests is constructed to measure knowledge and skills typically taught in high school that are important for successfully completing a college education. ACT Assessment scores are required for students seeking admission to PRCC and are also used to determine course placement in English, mathematics and reading.

Test dates at PRCC are Saturday, Oct. 25; and Saturday, Dec. 13. ACT registration forms are available in the Counseling Career Center in Crosby Hall on the PRCC campus and at local high schools. The fee is $25. For information, call 403-1250.

TABE score required for career-technical students

Career-technical students at Pearl River Community College are required to have a TABE (Test of Adult Basic Education) score to register.

A minimum score is required for college entrance. The score obtained from the TABE indicate if the student is required to enroll in the reading or mathematics developmental classes in the career-technical division. There is no charge for this test.

Additional information regarding the TABE can be obtained by calling Barbara Mathis Dr. Ann Moore (403-1250) in the Counseling/Career Center in Crosby Hall on the PRCC campus.

PRAXIS I testing this fall

Students seeking admission to teacher education programs in Mississippi are usually required to have acceptable scores on the PRAXIS I (reading, writing and mathematics sub-scales).

PRAXIS I test dates are Saturday, Sept. 13, and Saturday, Nov. 15.

Students who have an ACT composite of 21 or higher with no scale score below 18 or SAT 860 (verbal and quantitative) upon entrance into college are not required to take PRAXIS I.

Although the PRAXIS I is not administered at PRCC, fee information and registration bulletins are available in the Counseling/Career Center.

For information, call PRCC at 403-1250.

Residual ACT test date set

The Residual American College Test (ACT) will be administered Tuesday, Dec. 16, at Pearl River Community College.

The Residual ACT is administered on dates designated by participating colleges for students who are unable to test on a national date.

Residual ACT results are reported only to the college administering the test and students may not repeat residual testing until 60 days have past since their previous scoring on a non-national basis.

Students wishing to take the Residual ACT on the PRCC campus should register in the Counseling/Career Center in Crosby Hall. The fee is $25. For information, call 403-1250.

National Day of Remembrance Vigil set Sept. 25

Sharing Our Strength (SOS) Hattiesburg), Mississippi Coalition for Survivors of Homicide Victims, Inc., and Mississippi Department of Corrections - Division of Victim Services are hosting a statewide vigil honoring and remembering homicide victims and those who are missing. This special remembrance ceremony is scheduled for Thursday, September 25, 2003, at the Jackie Dole Sherrill

Community Center in Hattiesburg at 7:00 p.m.

Families and friends throughout Mississippi are encouraged to send a picture of their loved one to be included in the slide show presentation and to also attend this special event. Pictures submitted should be clear to be scanned into the computer and must be received by September 13th. The following information must be included with the picture: name, address and phone of sender; victim's name, dates of birth and death or date the person began missing; relationship to the victim; and a note granting permission for the picture to be displayed for the Day of Remembrance.

The National Day of Remembrance was designed to give families and friends an opportunity to remember loved ones who were homicide victims and give community members a chance to show their support for these families. For additional information, please contact June Renfrow (SOS) at 601.584.0908 or Tara Frazier (MDOC) at 601-359-5628.

construction of our new facilities," she said. "The district has facilities that we can all be proud of, and our academic achievements are reflective of what we can accomplish when we are committed to maintaining that pride by continually increasing quality and raising the bar."

As for being a part of "raising the bar," Montgomery said she and the other board members "feel like proud parents."

"We are especially thrilled to be one of only two districts in the entire state to achieve this accomplishment," she said. "We have always stated that we will match our students and teachers up against any district, not just in Mississippi but in the entire region. We know what a great district and community we have; it is just wonderful to have that fact recognized by everyone else."

Pass Christian High School

"We are extremely fortunate in Pass Christian to have a high school full of students who want to succeed and who want to achieve," said Cathy Broadway, principal. "We also have a group of committed teachers whose sole purpose in coming to work every day is to make certain that the students get the best education that they can deliver to them."

Broadway said support outside the school also helped aid in the high school's achievement.

"We have great support from our central office staff who makes certain that the schools are provided with the tools they need to be successful," she said. "Everyone in our district shares the same high expectations for academic achievement and student performance. Our parents and the Pass Christian community support us every step of the way."

Caroline Bartlett, an English teacher, said this support has helped her grow as an educator.

"I believe that I have the optimal teaching experience at Pass Christian High School," she said. "Last year was my first year teaching. I was lucky. The administration, faculty and staff at Pass High are the most supportive co-workers imaginable. We have a unique situation, in that the community is hugely supportive of the district."

Bartlett said this allows her to more fully devote herself to her students because of the support system Pass High, the Pass Christian School District and the Pass Christian community provide.

As for the students at Pass High, Bartlett said they have worked especially hard to contribute to the school's status.

"Pass High sets high standards for its students and the students do not question the goals we, as educators, ask them to reach," she said. "Students at Pass High contribute to our school's Level 5 status by living up to their potential and valuing the education they receive at Pass High."

One of those students, senior Jasmine Bradley, attributes the students' success, in part, to their teachers.

"I think the faculty of Pass Christian High School is amazing," said Bradley, who serves as the cheerleading captain and vice president of the band. "The teachers really strive to prepare the students to aim for higher test scores. They always go the extra mile to ensure that the students really understand everything that is being taught."

Bradley said her teachers' enthusiasm is what she loves most about her school. Her fellow students' compatibility, she said, also contributes to the school's "welcoming atmosphere."

Pass Christian

Middle School
"Achieving a Level 5 status requires a complete team effort and a lot of hard work," said Ronnie Storey, principal. "The community must understand and value quality education and support the schools' efforts to provide it. The school district must hire and train quality teachers who can motivate students to achieve high standards."

Storey said teachers are the key to reaching a Level three most important aspects are teamwork, high expectations, and a caring staff."

Like every other school, Burger said the teachers are the backbone.

"Test scores do not come out of the principal's office; they come out of what takes place in the classroom," she said. "We have a dedicated and loyal faculty who always give their best to our students and expect the same in return."

"We are especially thrilled to be one of only two districts in the entire state to achieve this accomplishment. We have always stated that we will match our students and teachers up against any district, not just in Mississippi but in the entire region. We know what a great district and community we have; it is just wonderful to have that fact recognized by everyone else."

5 status.

"They must be able to motivate and be highly adaptive to new trends and ideas," he said. "Their performance, especially in light of the new state and federal standards, is closely monitored. They must remain positive at all times and truly understand the demands of the profession as required by the 'No Child Left Behind' policy."

One such teacher is Chris Wallace, who was selected as Teacher of the Year 2002-2003.

"Teaching at Pass Christian Middle School is like running a business," he said. "When creating a product, employees strive for excellence. The overall objective is to provide each customer with not only quality but also great satisfaction."

Wallace said the atmosphere at Pass Christian Middle School is likewise.

"My fellow teachers and I set high standards and will not accept anything less from our students," he said. "In turn, we are producing a product of excellent quality; therefore, allowing students the ability to effectively contribute to our community in various ways in the future."

The students, Wallace said, were the main factor in the school's Level 5 status.

"Students worked diligently to prepare for last year's state test," he said. "Teachers and administrators served as facilitators of knowledge in preparing students for the assessment. Obviously, the success of this school is derived from the students."

Pass Christian Elementary

Lettie E. Burger, principal, said it took teamwork from the faculty, staff, administrators, parents and community to make the elementary a Level 5 school.

"Pass Christian Elementary School has the best and most caring teachers who demand more from (their) students and will accept nothing less," she said. "Everyone uses a lot of research-based materials and programs to teach our students."

Burger said the school was fortunate to receive a Reading Excellence Grant, which helped to provide Extended Day and Extended Year opportunities for students. She said teachers also worked with Americorps and USM classes, which provided one-on-one tutoring for at-risk students.

She said the parent/family liaison makes the important home/school connection for the school.

"This is just a partial list of all that goes into making us a Level 5 school, but the Level 5 status, we realize that every school-level decision must be made based on what is best for children," said Meridith Bang, principal. "It is through the support and dedication of our faculty, staff, parents, community and school district that we have reached our goal of becoming a superior performing school. DeLisle Elementary has a reputation for high academic standards, and we will continue to uphold these expectations."

Bang said the DeLisle teachers and support personnel have all contributed to this accomplishment by working effectively as a team and respecting each student as an individual with his or her own special needs and talents.

"As we face the requirements of 'No Child Left Behind' legislation, I am proud to be a part of a school where teachers give 200 percent in rising to the challenges of education today."

Jackie Odenwald, a third-grade teacher, working at DeLisle Elementary is a pleasure.

"Our faculty and staff are always upbeat and positive," she said. "Our principal is very supportive and provides the necessary means for our success."

One reason for DeLisle's status, Odenwald said, is the students' consistent presence at school. Parents also provided another factor.

"Parental support is evident through the high homework completion rate and their easy accessibility for communication when needed," she said. "Additionally, teachers have an open door policy that allows parents to visit at anytime."

sessions to give teachers opportunities to become stronger instructors."

Parents, she said, play a support role as well.

"They are asked to send students to school every day unless the child is sick, to support the teacher and (his or her) recommendations for strengthening the child's weaknesses and to continue their child's education beyond the confines of the school walls."

As for the teachers, Stasny said they are the ones who made the Level 5 status a reality.

"They were consistent, focused and intent on moving every child to a higher level of performance — not because of the impending test, but because it was the right thing to do for every child," she said.

Rebecca McCaleb, principal, said it takes the entire school focusing on student achievement to make it to a Level 5 school.

"In order for a school to be a Level 5, high expectations for every student must be the standard," she said. "I strongly believe when you take a child from where they are developmentally and move them along on the learning continuum all students succeed. It takes all stakeholders having a part in the five-year plan for the school to reach their goals. Planning is the key to success."

McCaleb said in order to be a Level 5 school, she believes the following must be in place:

- Vision — having a common understanding of goals, principles and expectations for everyone in the learning-community

- Leadership — having a group of individuals dedicated to helping the learning-community reach its vision from the central office to the school site

- High Academic Standards — describing what students need to know and be able to do

- Family School and Community Partnerships — "making room at the table" for a child's first and most influential teachers

- Professional Development — providing consistent, meaningful opportunities for adults in the school setting to engage in continuous learning

- Evidence of Success: collecting and analyzing data about students, programs, and statistics

"I think the teacher in front of the classroom makes the difference in student achievement," she said. "Waveland Elementary teachers are willing to learn new ways of doing things and have taken advantage of on-going professional development through a school based, on-going professional development known as peer coaching."

The focus during peer coaching, McCaleb said, is to review what research has found to be the "best practices" in teaching and then implement the practices in the classroom.

Sharon Sutherlin, a second-grade teacher, said being a teacher at Waveland Elementary means being a part of a "Community of Learners."

"We are always seeking new ideas, resources and research to bring into the classroom," she said. "Communication, teamwork and a positive attitude are what makes teaching at Waveland a wonderful experience."

Sutherlin said high expectations are set for all students at the school.

"They know what the teachers expect each and every day," she said.

"High expectations yield an environment conducive to learning. The result is high performing students."

Hancock

"Being a Level 5 high school begins in the classroom," she said. "Without the excellent teaching methods of our educators, I feel confident that our Level 5 status would never have been reached."

Moran said her favorite aspect of attending Hancock High throughout her high school career has been the school's "at-home feel."

"It is clear that many students feel very comfortable here because it is so easy to do so," she said. "That is not an easy feeling to have at school, which is why I am so happy to say that Hancock High contains that feeling, and it makes way for so many other wonderful aspects."

East Hancock Elementary

"The entire team of adults at a school site has to work together to provide a positive learning environment where children can develop skills to be life-long learners," said Cheryl Ramseyer, principal. "The success of each child must be the priority of the entire staff."

Ramseyer said when children have difficulty learning there has to be a willingness to search for answers. Teachers, she said, must know how children learn and must continually look for strategies and "best practices" to impact learning.

She said successful programs that have worked at East Hancock Elementary are based on research. For example, Interactive Writing, Power Hour reading, Texas Scottish Rite Dyslexia Program, Writing Project and Thinking Maps.

"It's not easy to step away from old practices, so schools must be eager and willing to try new strategies basing decisions on research, assessment data and evidence found in student work," she said.

Ramseyer said teachers at East Hancock meet the children each day with high expectations for learning and behavior.

"They instill a pride in accomplishment and encourage children to do their best," she said. "I hear teachers all day, everywhere in the building, praising children for accomplishments. They recognize students for their successes and make learning fun."

Parents tell me that their children don't want to miss a day of school because they love their daily adventures in learning. Our teachers teach respect for self, others and the school. They build on each child's strengths and work to transform areas of weakness into strengths.

She said assistants are partners in the instructional program as well.

"They work in classrooms, in learning labs and on intervention teams," she said. "Working with small groups, they bolster confidence by focusing on learning levels and individual achievement. They support the children and the teachers."

Seeing parents as their child's first teacher also helps in guiding the children, Ramseyer said.

"(Parents) are partners in all our endeavors, and we constantly seek ways to involve them in our academic program," she said.

Amity Graves, a third and fourth-grade looping teacher who teaches fourth grade this year, said a positive attitude is the key to the school's achievement.

"The staff, administrators, teachers and students arrive with positive attitudes to school each day," she said. "The positive attitudes continue throughout the day, which makes it easier to teach as teachers and for the students to learn."

Graves said everyone works together as a team.

"Working together provides support for the entire staff, grade level and students," she said. "It is a relaxing atmosphere that is conducive to teaching and learning."

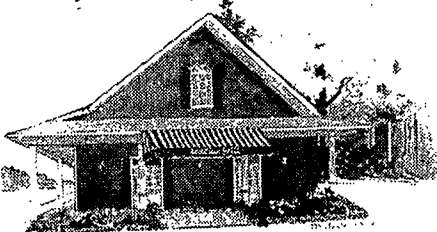

She said teachers are provided extra support from parents who contribute to making teaching easier. They volunteer, encourage and support the entire staff, she said.

"Students come with positive attitudes from home," Graves said. "They have a desire to learn and work hard in the classroom. Both the parents and teachers provide opportunity to make the learning process fun."

A CITY OF REFUGE

ONE OF THE GREAT PHILISTINE CITIES WAS GATH. IT WAS NOTED AS THE RESIDENCE OF A REMNANT OF GIANTS, NAMED THE ANAKIM. (1 SAM. 7:14) A MEMBER OF THIS RACE WAS GOLIATH WHOM DAVID DEFEATED. GATH WAS ALSO THE REFUGE ON TWO OCCASIONS OF DAVID, WHEN HE HAD TO FLEE KING SAUL'S MURDEROUS INTENT. HOW MANY OTHER REFUGEES FROM SAUL'S ANGER WE ARE NOT TOLD, BUT IF IT SERVED AS A REFUGE FOR DAVID AND HIS FOLLOWERS, IT MUST HAVE BEEN LOOKED UPON AS A HAVEN FOR MANY WHO FELL OUT OF FAVOR IN SAUL'S KINGDOM.

WILL WE YET BE SAFE IN GATH?

WILL NOT KING ACHISH GIVE US WELCOME REFUGE WHEN IT IS HIS MORTAL ENEMY KING SAUL WHICH SEEKS TO SLAY US?!

Who is in charge of details?

"In politics, the devil is in the details. In art, God is in the details."

It has long been axiomatic in politics that the devil is in the details, not in the broad legislation. Who, for instance, disagrees with the premise that we all need freedom, human rights, peace, local and national security, economic opportunity and stability, and just laws for immigration, etc?

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

No one, of course. But, since the devil is in the details, all hell breaks loose once the legislators get into the nuts and bolts of individual issues. Freedom, for instance, runs into the details of Pro Choice and abortion on demand. Pro Choice calls it freedom, while Pro Life calls it murder, feticide. The acid, undying, bitter-taste between the warring factions is our biggest scandal.

Of all the blood-and-guts battlefields, the abortion issue is surely the most passionate, the most gut-wrenching and the most divisive. We are staggered by even the sheer number of some 40 million babies aborted since the 7-2 abortion ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court on January 22, 1973. "Murder," the Pro-Lifers call it. "A medical procedure," the Pro-Choicers call it.

Speaking of details, does freedom mean being allowed to pray in school, or does it mean not being allowed to pray in school in order to protect the freedom of those who choose not to? Is freedom being allowed not to pledge "under God," or being forbidden to display the 10 Commandments publicly?

Beyond a doubt, the devil must be somewhere in these freedom details of hiding the Commandments by judicial decree, but distributing safe-sex packages in the registration lines of certain colleges and universities.

What is for sure is that God is nowhere to be found in these seamy details.

For years, human/civil rights have been touted throughout the nation and the world. Yet, it does not take the fingers of one hand to count the nations which truly honor human rights. On our own doorstep, the deviled details entail daily infighting over Pro Choice, gay rights, same-sex marriage, and the "right" to choose one's exit from life through assisted suicide.

Economic opportunity leading to wealth is spelled "lower taxes" and "shrinking government" by conservatives. Liberals call it "higher taxes" and "strong, far-ranging government" which provides for us. The worst pitched battles of Congress are fought over these philosophies. As usual, the devil is in the details, struggling to balance reality and pork-barrel dreams.

Conservatives complain that "we cannot spend our way out of debt."

Liberals grouse endlessly about the callous conservatives who talk about more compassionate government, but are not willing to dig into their pockets to spend a little money on sorely needed social programs.

Can you imagine the idiocy of letting illegal aliens get a driver's license? This is precisely the easy avenue trod by the illegal aliens who piloted the four hijacked jetliners on Sept. 11, except that some licenses were bogus and multiple. Further, in the U.S. a driver's license is the magic key to everything. And what an ugly affront to the honest millions who do it the right way.

Peace has always been the objective of humankind, but the details of finding it vary from at-times obnoxious peace demonstrations to the gory, insane path of suicide bombers. Several decades ago, one wag wrote that fighting for peace is no better than fornicating for chastity.

Yes, the devil is indeed in the details of peace and security as well.

While we all want local and national security, there is fierce infighting over how far we should go in pursuing terrorists in Iraq or wherever, how much money we should invest in this fight, and how international it should be.

Most telling, perhaps damning, of all the details is this, that our whole nation was galvanized as one and ready for all details, hardships and eventualities of securing our safety immediately after Sept. 11. But now, two short years later, our sense of urgency, resolve and sacrifice have waned.

In glaring contrast to all those dirty little details with the devil as their host, God is in the details of art. By art, we can understand the feeble efforts of artists to express nature imaginatively on canvas or some other medium. By the same token, we can understand nature itself in all its glory.

"Genius is expressed not in universals or generalities, but in the fine details of creation." In one way or other, we have heard this statement echoed down through the years by artists, scientists, architects and philosophers who see the creative genius of God and people alike in the marvels of details.

"Ever since the creation of the world, his invisible attributes of eternal power and divinity have been able to be understood and perceived in what he has made," Paul reminds us in Romans 1:20.

The wondrous panoramas of galaxies, oceans, rivers, forests, plains, mountains and deserts with all their fauna and flora are balanced off by the spectacular microscopic world of amoebas, paramacia, atoms, molecules, neutrinos and the innumerable marvels within our own human body.

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

The kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom.

"Now five of them were wise and five were foolish."

"Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them."

"But, the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps."

"But, while the bridegroom was delayed they all slumbered and slept."

"And at midnight a cry was heard, Behold the bridegroom is coming; go out to meet Him."

"Than all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps."

"And the foolish said to the wise, give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out."

"But the wise answered saying, no, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourself."

"And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with Him to the wedding, and the door was shut."

"Afterward, the other virgins came also saying, Lord, Lord, open to us!"

"But He answered and said, verily, I say to you, I do not know you."

"Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor hour in which the son of man is coming." Matt. 25:1-13.

When the son of God said I never knew you, that's exactly what He meant. Could be many church goers who practice their religion will be in for a surprise. To know Jesus personally is totally different; than to know of Him.

Satan knows about Him, but never turned his heart over to the Lord. So he is condemn for an eternity. Don't be a foolish person, be ready to meet Him!

The "Word" for the Week

Covenant families

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

In the sixties there was a big push to disregard formal marriage. People began to live together more openly.

There were also many so-called trial marriages. Who needs a piece of paper, a marriage license or a marriage certificate, was the cry. Oddly enough, those who marry after living together for sometime have a higher divorce rate.

This gets us to the sixty-four dollar question. What is marriage? The book of Malachi in the Old Testament of the Bible describes a married woman to her husband this way. "She is your companion and your wife by covenant" (Malachi 2:14).

Marriage is a covenant. What does this mean? A covenant is an agreement made by taking vows or making promises. The traditional marriage ceremony has two sets of vows or promises. In the first set, the bride and groom make promises to God. In the second set the man and woman promise each other they will forsake all others and live with each other all the days of their lives. When these promises are made, a marriage is formed. It is later consummated with the sexual union.

But the essence of marriage is not sex. The essence of marriage is the covenant, the promises, which were made. Unfortunately, too many people today are too willing to break their promises. They are not as good as their word. This is why trust breaks down in many homes.

If people do not keep their word, how can they be trusted? If parents do not keep their promises to each other, how do children know they can trust their parents? What we need today are faithful, promise keeping, covenant families.

SCC begins sesquicentennial celebrations

THE SEA COAST ECHO

St. Stanislaus College celebrated the beginning of its sesquicentennial year (150th anniversary) with a Mass of Thanksgiving held on Saturday, Sept. 6, at 7 p.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, said Brother Ronald Talbot, president.

He and Brother Ronald Hingle, SC, principal, were both involved in the liturgy.

The most Reverend Thomas J. Rodi, Bishop of the Diocese of Biloxi, was the principal celebrant of the mass.

In the pre-liturgical procession, various artifacts were presented.

Among these were some soil from Lyons, France, where the Brothers of the Sacred Heart were founded in 1821; a Rule of Life for the Brothers; ceramic pottery created by the late Brother Hilbert Mooney, SC; and wooden carvings by the late Brother Leon Stock, SC.

Brother Xavier Werneth, SC, a former SCC faculty member, has recently written a history of St. Stanislaus College. This book was presented by Brother Xavier and Brother Patrick McGinity, SC, a 1964 SCC graduate and a native of Bay St. Louis.

Brother Nicholas Geisenberg, SC, 92, was honored as the oldest Brother in the New Orleans Province. The youngest Brother, Brother Patrick Cousins, SC, 25, a 1995 SCC graduate, is currently working at the St. Michael's Indian School in St. Michael's, Arizona. He was represented by his mother, Mrs. Patricia Cousins, a current SCC faculty member.

A historical marker was presented by Mr. Roland Schexnayder, vice president of the Hancock County Historical Society, and Brother Alan Drain, SC, a former teacher at SCC and Province Archivist.

St. Stanislaus College was founded as a boarding school. Over the past 150 years, St. Stanislaus has attracted students from 44 different countries. The flags of these countries were carried in procession by SCC juniors and seniors.

The American flag was presented by Commander John Rice of the United States Navy. He was accompanied by his wife, Ruth, their three sons, Greg, Michael, and Brian — who are currently students at St. Stanislaus — and their daughter Katie.

Four ordained Brothers of the Sacred Heart: Carl Evans, Ray Hebert, Louis

The blessing of the Historical Marker by Bishop Rodi.

Couvillon, and Will McCue, a 1949 SCC graduate, who concelebrated the Mass of Thanksgiving with the Bishop, carried a Papal flag as part of the pre-liturgical procession. Since 36 members of the Gex family, in direct lineage, have graduated from SCC, they have been selected as the "Sesquicentennial Family." Andrew Chevis '06, David Grapusa '07, and Trevor Gex '07, are presently enrolled at St. Stanislaus. When the Brothers of the Sacred Heart came to America in 1847, they were given a cross by their superior, Brother Polycarp Gondre, to bring with them to the new world. This cross, which now has a place of honor in the Brothers' Chapel at St. Stanislaus, was carried by Brother Joseph Donovan, SC, dormitory prefect for 40 years, and Brother Francis Fleming, SC, a missionary to both Africa and the Philippines, at the start of the liturgical procession.

Several St. Stanislaus College's alumni who are ordained served as concelebrated the mass with the Bishop. These were Father James Carter, SJ, a 1944 graduate of St. Stanislaus, former president of Loyola University, and pastor of Immaculate Conception Church in New Orleans; Father Jerome Fortenberry, CM, a 1943 graduate of St. Stanislaus and pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Cairo, Illinois; and Father Jim Morrison, a 1979 graduate of St. Stanislaus College and pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas in Thibodaux, Louisiana.

Father Dennis Carver, a 1970 graduate of St. Stanislaus and pastor of St. Paul's Church in Pass Christian, served as master of ceremonies. Deacon Gil Schmidt, a 1951 graduate of St. Stanislaus, served as minister of the gospel.

Several other local priests and deacons also participate in the Mass of Thanksgiving.

Refreshments were served in the OLG Community Center at the conclusion of the Mass.

The Sesquicentennial Mass of Thanksgiving Liturgical Committee consisted of Mrs. Barbara Carter, Mrs. Shirley Schmidt, Father Dennis Carver, Brother Carl Bouchereau, SC, and Brother Adrian Gaudin, SC.

St. Stanislaus College's sesquicentennial celebration will continue with the following major events: Golf Invitational and Homecoming on Oct. 17; 5k Fun Run on Oct. 18; Sesquicentennial Birthday Celebration on Jan. 30; and Sesquicentennial Gala on May 8.

St. Stanislaus College is a Catholic residency and day school for young men in grades sixth through 12th. The school fosters character formation and integrates faith development within a curriculum which is primarily college preparatory.

Gulf Coast students attend MSMS

Gulf Coast high schools continue to send an impressive number of academically able students to the Mississippi School for Mathematics and Science.

Forty-eight area juniors and seniors are among the 266 gifted students statewide enrolled this semester. Twenty-seven juniors and 21 seniors have come in from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties to the state's special two-year, free residential school housed on the campus of Mississippi University for Women.

Juniors from Bay St. Louis are Katherine Jones and Willow Nero. And from Our Lady Academy, Andrea Ranielli of Waveland.

Seniors returning from Bay High are Emily Liner and Danielle Bordages. Other seniors include Caroline Cuevas and Ariel Cummins of Pass Christian High. Candace Mixon of Pass Christian attended Our Lady Academy, and Bonnie Taquino of Diamondhead came from Pearl River High.

Checking in With Eve

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Originally, it was titled "The Opposite Sex," but that changed with the casting of one of hip-hop's top stars.

"Eve," the UPN series that now bears the Grammy-winning singer's name, premieres Monday, Sept. 15. However, she is playing someone named Shelly, a woman who wants to find true love, once and for all. Coached by her best friends (Ali Landry, Natalie Desselle-Reid), she dates men including confirmed bachelor J.T. (Jason George, "Platinum"). He doesn't make the grade, at least at first. Shelly alters her opinion of him after she later runs into him at a wedding.

Although music remains her main calling card, Eve insists she won't treat TV stardom casually. "I'm definitely serious about what I do," she maintains. "I love acting. It's not something I'm doing (as) a fad. I have an acting coach who comes everywhere with me. It is a trend right now to have rappers and singers in movies. Bottom line: It's a business. I think people (in the industry) look at it like, 'If we can take this artist and her two million fans, that just gives us that much more money.'"

On her show, Eve wants to deliver more than that to her followers, especially in spotlighting female bonding. She reflects that Shelly's "relationships with her friends mean a whole lot to her. She is a strong woman, but she goes through things and she definitely needs her friends. She feels comfortable with them."

Eve

Eve also has thoughts to express about women's places in the entertainment world. "It's still male-dominated," she acknowledges, "but I think there is more acceptance of females. We've just got to come through and do our thing. That's it."

Born: Nov. 10, 1978, in Philadelphia.

Movie work: "XXX"; "Barbershop"; "Charlie's Angels: Full Throttle"; "The Woodsman"; "Barbershop 2."

Albums: "Let There Be Eve ... Ruff Ryders First Lady"; "Scorpion"; "Eve-Olution." Eve's fourth album is slated for release in 2004.

Solo music hits: "What Ya Want"; "Gotta Man"; "Love Is Blind"; "Who's That Girl?"; "Satisfaction."

Songs collaborations: "You Got Me" with the Roots; "Girlfriend/Boyfriend" with Blackstreet and Janet Jackson; "Hot Boyz" with Missy Elliott; "Let Me Blow Ya Mind" with Gwen Stefani; "Gangsta Lovin'" with Alicia Keys.

ABC hopes for Thursday-night success with 'Threat Matrix'

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

In the past, U.S. television viewers on Thursday nights made big winners of NBC's relationship comedy "Friends" and CBS' reality game show "Survivor."

So, when ABC premieres "Threat Matrix," the station's entry in the same time slot, on Sept. 18, we'll see whether viewers are ready for current events and terrorism at a time traditionally dominated by laughs and dramatic tribal councils.

"Threat Matrix" is executive-produced and created by screenwriter-journalist Daniel Voll. The title stems from a report given to the president each morning, outlining the most active international and domestic threats facing the nation.

"We're very focused on the 'Threat Matrix' report," Voll says. "That report predated 9/11, became more prominent after 9/11. But that report, regardless of who's in the White House, will be issued every day and delivered to the president at 7:40 every morning. That's part of what we're reckoning with ... that we're in a culture in which there's a bomb ticking somewhere."

James Denton stars as John Kilmer, a former FBI Special Agent who heads a team battling these threats - a team that includes his ex-wife (Kelly Rutherford).

Also starring are Will Lyman, Kurt Caceres, Mahershalalhashbaz Ali, Melora Walters and Anthony Azizi.

Voll insists that "Threat Matrix" won't be "Middle East terrorist of the week."

Jada Pinkett Smith

Jada Pinkett Smith and husband Will Smith produce UPN's "All of Us," premiering Tuesday, Sept. 16. "In watching Will for the years he did 'Fresh Prince of Bel-Air,' and knowing how passionate he was about sitcoms,

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Sept. 14 through Sept. 20, 2003

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

Nagging health issues that cropped up recently should subside soon, and you'll have a clean bill of health in no time.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

You'll be feeling more generous than usual, and associates will be surprised when you offer to pick up the check. Just smile if they ask why.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Creativity proves to be your ally on the job, and superiors are sure to notice. Just be sure not to flaunt your abilities around the office.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

You'll have the chance to stick close to home, and you couldn't be happier. Cook and clean up a storm - that's what you do best.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

You'll come across charming and witty at social gatherings, and people will flock to your side. Be sure to take names and numbers for networking.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

You'll be able to resolve long-standing communication issues soon, which will smooth out any differences you've had with associates.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

You'll be back to your old self, talking and laughing away like nothing ever happened. You might have some explaining to do to friends, though.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

You're making progress on figuring out your wants and needs, narrowing down what your value system actually is.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

You could meet influential people at this time, so be on the lookout at parties and social gatherings for people who catch your eye.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

It's likely that you'll hear back from someone about your job performance, and the news should be good.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Revisions to paperwork could be in the works for you, so take a deep breath. You might have to redo all that work you did a few weeks ago.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Relationship issues could begin to clear up for you, making your life that much easier. Just be sure to look at the whole picture next time.

Conan O'Brien proves what a difference a decade makes

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Conan O'Brien may be the most grateful man on television.

"The first couple of years were difficult and harrowing," he says from his corner office, where he likens the decor to Pee-wee Herman's playhouse. "I might be the most appreciative late-night host to ever celebrate a 10th-anniversary special."

NBC's "Late Night With Conan O'Brien: 10th Anniversary Special," airing Sunday, Sept. 14, tapes the Friday before at Manhattan's Beacon Theater. As of press time, Jim Carrey told O'Brien he wants to be on it. Jack Black, Will Ferrell and former sidekick Andy Richter are already set to celebrate a show that survived a less-than-auspicious debut.

"I don't blame anybody who had a problem with the show because I was very raw and green," O'Brien says. "When Letterman left, a lot of people thought he had been fired, and there was so much anger."

"It was a very weird time with Letterman leaving," says Jeff Ross, executive producer since O'Brien started. "It was just this surreal thing. There was no obvious choice... The guy who replaced Letterman was going to get killed. It was a seismic shift in television. It was that big of a thing."

This 6-foot, 4-inch redhead with no acting experience beyond some improvisational work was writing for "The Simpsons" when he landed the job. He since has hosted the Emmy Awards, and his show is nominated this year for the first time.

Over the past decade, O'Brien has married, is expecting his first child, and has essentially grown up and into the job. From the moment he auditioned, O'Brien, 40, knew this was what he should be doing.

"I just remembered thinking this job represents the only thing I could do in show business," he says. "I remember watching Letterman and Carson and thinking, 'That looks like fun.' I went to the audition, and I remember thinking, in a weird way, this is where I belong. After many years, I still know this is where I want to be."

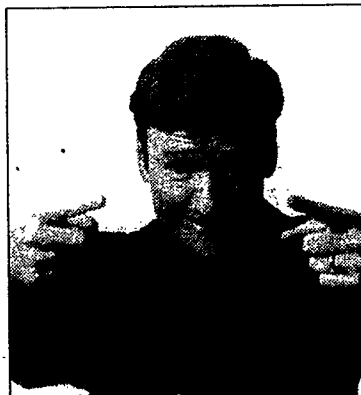

It cannot be easy hosting a talk show - witness Whoopi, Magic, Chevy and the legions who found out firsthand - yet O'Brien consistently has proven to be a natural.

On a recent sweltering Manhattan day, the audience queues up for more than an hour, then people file into seats in NBC's Studio 6A, where it's cold enough to hang meat. O'Brien's first guest is Richter, and they instantly fall into the easy rapport of two men who enjoyed working together for seven years. Next up is shock rocker Marilyn Manson, who applies magenta lipstick to O'Brien. Finally, wrestler-turned-novelist Mick Foley, wearing sweat pants decorated with Winnie the Pooh, gives his psychological analysis of the 100 Acre Wood denizens.

The Max Weinberg 7 is in great form, even if its leader is on tour with Bruce Springsteen. This audience is so enthusiastic, that when the show ends, O'Brien asks them to watch a clip reel that may wind up on the special.

As the audience returns to the steamy city, O'Brien and Ross review the show. Richter, relaxing for a few minutes in the green room, says, "I do remember the feeling of flying by the seat of our pants." He doubts he would return to this sort of gig because it could, he says, "seem like I was trying to regain a past glory."

There's a lovely camaraderie in the offices behind the small studio. As "One of my assets is that I am a nice Irish Catholic fellow in a suit," NBC's Conan O'Brien says. Sunday's "Late Night with Conan O'Brien: 10th Anniversary Special" pays tribute to his many assets.

Richter leaves, a cleaning lady calls to him and they hug as she asks about his toddler son. O'Brien changes out of his suit into a worn gray T-shirt and comfy slacks. He kicks his Nikes onto his desk and looks out onto midtown Manhattan.

Except for piling more stuff into it, the office has not changed much in 10 years, he says. A faded striped couch from his Los Angeles apartment is piled with guitars and boxes. Hogan's Heroes toys, a giant plastic pickle, a Conan the Barbarian lunchbox and Bob's Big Boy figures are among the gewgaws stuffed into what was once an insurance office. "I didn't want to move into Letterman's offices," he explains. "I thought that would be bad karma. I wanted to tap into the humor of an insurance company."

CBS' 'Joan' has a 'West Side' Jet for a dad

By Taylor Michaels
© Zap2it

Q Is Amber Tamblyn of the new CBS drama "Joan of Arcadia" related to Russ Tamblyn of "West Side Story"? - Bob Buscavage, Moriches, N.Y.

A Yes, the 20-year-old actress is the daughter of Russ Tamblyn, who played Riff, the Jets' gang leader in the Oscar-winning "West Side Story."

Previously, Tamblyn created the role of Emily Bowen Quartermaine on the soap "General Hospital" and made guest appearances on "Without a Trace," "CSI: Miami," "The Twilight Zone," "Boston Public" and "Buffy the Vampire Slayer."

Tamblyn's film credits include "The Ring" and "Live Nude Girls," and she keeps fans updated via a Web site: <http://www.amtam.com>.

Q What has happened to little Ben on "Friends"? He is scarcely mentioned and it seems that his absence should be explained. -Jeanetta Danford, St. Joseph, Mo.

Amber Tamblyn

A "Friends" is a situation comedy, not a docudrama, and its first priority is to be funny - in fact, to let each of six very highly paid stars have his or her moment to be funny in the space of only 20 minutes or so (allowing for commercials).

A "Friends" publicist assured me that Ben is mentioned whenever it serves the comedy, such as when Chandler told the guys he and Monica were having fertility problems and Joey suggested that Ross should just give them Ben.

You are not alone, Jeanetta, in your opinion that it strikes a false note for Ben to be so rarely seen or mentioned, but to carry that insistence on "reality" to its logical conclusion, remember this: Each week you see only 20 minutes out of the lives of this sextet. Ben presumably shares a healthy and happy relationship with his dad, Ross, and Aunt Monica during the other six days, 23 hours and 40 minutes.

Q While watching Monica Potter in the movie "Along Came a Spider," I noticed that her expressions, gestures and voice are so much like Julia Roberts. Am I correct? -Vella Mae Jantz, Holyrood, Kan.

A That Potter bears a striking resemblance to Roberts in many respects? Yes! That the two ladies are related in some way? Not at all.

Will and Jada Pinkett Smith's marriage fuels a UPN sitcom

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

For the full story on two movie stars' marriage, a new comedy series may be as close as you can get.

Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith are the de facto subjects - and two of the executive producers - of "All of Us," premiering Tuesday, Sept. 16, on UPN. The show deals with such matters as post-divorce relationships and children from previous marriages, as Duane Martin ("Deliver Us From Eva") and Elise Neal ("The Hughleys") play characters inspired by the Smiths. Robert is an entertainment reporter awaiting the finalization of his divorce, which also is anticipated by his current girlfriend, schoolteacher Tia.

She wants to marry him as soon as possible, but two other people may cause delays: Robert's ex-wife, Neesee (LisaRaye, "The It Factor"), who intends to remain prominent in his life; and their young son, Robert Jr. (Khamani Griffin, "Daddy Day Care"). Watching from the sidelines is Robert's publicist and pal, Dirk (Tony Rock, Chris' brother), something of an expert on divorces, since he's on his third.

Both Will and Jada intend to make guest appearances as "All of Us" proceeds; meanwhile, they're staying involved by sharing behind-the-scenes duties with "Friends" alumna Betsy Borns and James Lassiter, Will's regular production partner. "I love the day-to-day, week-to-week (pace) of a sitcom," Will Smith says, drawing on memories of his "Fresh Prince of Bel-Air" years. "It is the purest, most natural form of human 'silly.' You can do anything, you can say anything, you can try anything. You've had a line that hasn't been working all week, then somebody pitches something and it's perfect and you go in and do it. Just the whole energy of the sitcom world - I definitely miss that."

Smith stresses that "All of Us" is "really just loosely based" on his life with his current wife. "It's more about blended families," the veteran of such movie hits as "Independence Day," "Men in Black" and "Bad Boys" says. "We worked with a couple of psychologists, we talked to our friends and parents, and we had focus groups and really got an essence of the struggles of blended families." The former Mrs. Smith has signed off on the result, her ex-husband claims: "She loves the show. She thinks it's wonderful, and she thinks everyone should watch it."

The last comment finds Smith's tongue in his cheek, but his current spouse also wants "All of Us" to be a hit. Any network would love to have a series from a star as big as Will Smith, and Jada Pinkett Smith (seen recently in the movie "The Matrix Reloaded") explains that UPN was "the most excited. That was what was most important to us. They really got what we were trying to do. Dawn (Ostrow, UPN's chief programmer) is kind of going through something similar, since she also has a blended family. We wanted to do a sitcom that really reflects a piece of life that you don't see often on television."

For the male star of the show, "All of Us" is déjà vu to a degree, since Duane Martin actually introduced Will and Jada to each other. "My first job ever," Martin recalls, "was a TV pilot that I did with Jada and my wife (Tisha Campbell-Martin, 'My Wife and Kids'). The three of us used to hang out all the time, and I watched Jada grow, and I watched her date. I kind of felt the guys who were dating her were afraid to lose her - but Will didn't care (about such things), and that's the kind of guy she needed. She needed a firm man, so I thought it would be a great match."

As for how he and his wife will turn up on camera on "All of Us," Will reveals, "Jada will play Robert's sister, who comes into town essentially to check out Tia and see how things are going. I want to do a three-episode arc where I play Neesee's first boyfriend after the divorce." Whether Will will do additional "All of Us" remains to be decided. "They pay me too much money to make movies," he says. (Will confirms that the couple's three children will appear in some episodes, since youngsters are needed for classroom scenes with co-star Neal.)

Specific as the main characters' marital circumstances are, Jada Pinkett Smith believes "All of Us" holds potential appeal for all viewers. "It's universal," she says. "It's really something that I'm sure all of us have experienced in some form or fashion." Will Smith likes his wife's statement. "She put the title of the show in," he notes. "That's hot. That's why I married her."

Tony Rock, Elise Neal, LisaRaye, Khamani Griffin and Duane Martin (clockwise from top left) star in "All of Us," a UPN sitcom inspired by Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith. The show debuts Tuesday.

Paul McCartney never had visited Russia before, but he says it felt like home once he got there.

The legendary, knighted ex-Beatle made a delayed three-day trip in May, dedicating a St. Petersburg building for the arts, receiving an honorary degree from the Russian Conservatoire and performing a concert in Moscow's Red Square. The almost 100,000 fans included Russian President Vladimir Putin and former President Mikhail Gorbachev. McCartney's historic and emotional trek is traced in the two-hour A&E Network special "Paul McCartney in Red Square" Thursday, Sept. 18.

More than a music special - although it offers a wealth of songs from "Hey Jude" and "Band on the Run" to (of course) "Back in the USSR" - the program explains the impact of McCartney and the Beatles on Russia's population. An opening quote credits Liverpool's "Fab Four" with doing "more for the fall of communism than any other Western institution." Those interviewed confirm that simply knowing the Beatles existed helped many young Russians find their voices against an oppressive regime, even if some couldn't tell McCartney apart from John Lennon.

McCartney says, "We knew that the Beatles were kind of known over there, and that gave us a lot of pleasure, the idea that we were popular there. We used to think about being the first generation of our families that wasn't called to war, and it created this great freedom of thought."

Not only could the Beatles be creative in that atmosphere, others could appreciate their creativity, even as KGB officers looked over their shoulders. "I'd meet Russians on the street in New York or in England, and I'd always feel a sort of family bond with them," McCartney reflects. "I don't know why; maybe it had something to do with the wars and that feeling of being allies, but that really made it feel like I was an old friend returning when I went to Russia."

Not surprisingly, "Back in the USSR" got an enormous response when McCartney performed it in Red Square. "For years, I had been itching to do that," he confirms. "It took on a whole new sort of significance, and the reality of it far exceeded any dream I'd had. There I was, doing it in a place where I had only seen military processions on film."

McCartney originally intended to go to Russia in 2001, but the terrorist attacks on the United States altered his plans. His overseas visit was initiated by Anthea Eno, musician Brian Eno's wife, who invited McCartney to teach a master class at her St. Petersburg charity, which benefits musically talented, underprivileged children. "I thought, 'If I'm going, I don't just want to zip in, do the big-rock-star bit, then leave,'" he recalls. "I really wanted to experience Russia, and it was beautiful. I first got sort of a personal tour, then we got into the charity thing, and then we went to Moscow for the concert. That allowed me to touch Russia, and to let it touch me."

Accompanied by his wife, Heather, who is expecting their first child together, McCartney also appreciated the chance to discuss the international land-mine situation with President Putin. The music icon doesn't take such opportunities for granted: "Part of me is still a school kid looking at history, but as it unfolds, I'm now a part of it. That's uncanny to me, but it is great to realize that hopefully, I can make some small difference."

The historic Moscow concert performed in May by the ex-Beatle is captured in the new special "Paul McCartney in Red Square" Thursday on A&E Network.

HBO documentary explores 'The Curse of the Bambino'

By George Dickie
© Zap2it

Any baseball fan worth his or her salt knows the story by now: Johnny Pesky, Bucky Dent, Bill Buckner and no World Series title in 84 years.

Such is the cross that Boston fans have to bear these days as they prepare for another season-ending run, hoping against hope that this will be the year their beloved Red Sox finally end the string of bad luck and championshipless seasons that began with the sale of Babe Ruth to the New York Yankees prior to the 1920 season.

Their plight is told in the HBO documentary "The Curse of the Bambino," which debuts Tuesday, Sept. 16. Unlike most documentaries on this subject, it focuses not on the Yankees-Red Sox rivalry, but on how BoSox fans have learned to face such disappointment and frustration with humor and heartache. Actor Ben Affleck narrates.

Several Sox fans are interviewed in the film, the more famous ones being comedians Denis Leary, Lenny Clarke and Steven Wright, actors Michael Chiklis and Mike O'Malley, writers Jeffrey Lyons, Mike Barnicle, Robert Parker and Bud Collins, and radio talk-show host Eddie Andelman.

Ross Greenburg, president of HBO Sports and an executive producer of the film, says that the idea for "Curse" was years in the making. "It's really in honor of the Boston Red Sox fan," says Greenburg, a New York native. "It has all the seeds of an idea that creates a wonderful documentary because you have the sadness, the pain, the suffering and the comedy of (84) years of misery. And so you laugh and you cry on behalf of Red Sox fans everywhere. Whether it's Michael Chiklis - who starts screaming, 'Are you saying 1986 to me?' - you can feel the pain and the suffering. You know, Denis Leary and Eddie Andelman - it just is a special quality to be a Boston Red Sox fan, that you have to endure this kind of pain. And do it with a humorous attitude, keep your sense of humor."

One of the more humorous segments concerns Dent, the light-hitting Yankees shortstop whose three-run home run off Boston's Mike Torrez in a one-game playoff gave New York the 1978 American League East title. Here, he is remembered by Leary and other Boston fans as "Bucky F---ing Dent," a moniker that clearly amuses Dent in an interview clip. "He loved it," Greenburg says. "I think he loves it. You know, you have to have a sense of humor, and I think he just gets a kick out of it. It's part of the lore."

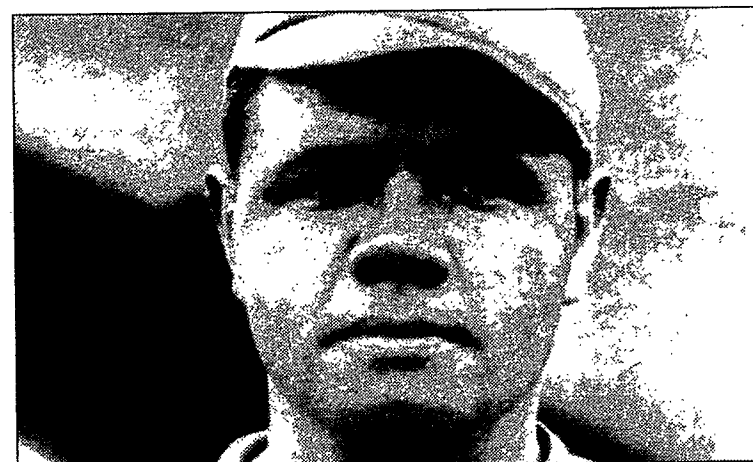

But Boston's story of futility isn't all laughs. The documentary also links the lengthy drought to its history as being one of the last Major League teams to integrate, pegging owner Tom Yawkey as a racist who wouldn't sign Willie Mays after giving the future Hall of Famer a tryout. "We had learned of that early on," Greenburg says. "I had always heard that rumor, and again we dug out the specifics. And it's clear that in that era, the Red Sox were way behind in greenlighting black ballplayers on their ball club. Willie Mays was there, tried out and got a good look with those Red Sox, and they just weren't ready to pull the trigger."

The film indicated that the Red Sox felt that Mays wasn't "their kind of player." "He was their kind of player," Greenburg says. "He just didn't have the right color on his skin. So I think we were adamant to point out that there is a little bit of realism behind the curse, at least for a certain period of time. You know, I think there were a lot of guilty parties, particularly in the American League in that era. But clearly, this was tying a couple of hands behind the backs of the Boston Red Sox by not going after black ballplayers for a long period of time."

Of course, Greenburg hopes that by the time the film airs, the Red Sox will still be involved in a pennant race, hopefully on their way to a World Series appearance and - dare we say it - a title?

The documentary ends with speculation on how Boston fans would react to a Red Sox world championship. "No one's ever really thought of that," Greenburg says. "That's a tribute to George Roy, the (film's) producer-editor, who really felt as if there was a sentimentality to this whole curse as well. And if you take the fans' perspective, you have to ask the question: Will there be a certain sadness when the curse is over. There would obviously be a euphoria immediately after, a celebration beyond all celebrations probably in the history of baseball. But then what?"

"NASCAR Winston Cup Sylvania 300" Sunday, Sept. 14 (TNT, 1 p.m. ET): Possessing arguably the second-best team behind points leader Matt Kenseth hasn't translated into enough points for Ryan Newman. After 24 races, Newman led the Winston Cup circuit with five wins, but trailed Kenseth in the all-important top-five and top-10 finish categories, resulting in a seventh-place standing. Newman's first Cup win came last year in the New Hampshire 300, a title he defends today in Loudon, N.H.

"Dallas Cowboys at New York Giants" Monday, Sept. 15 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): Even without Jeremy Shockey's running mouth, this game between the Giants and Cowboys packed worthy story lines. With the hated men from Texas in tow, Bill Parcells returns to the place where he enjoyed his greatest coaching success. So extra motivation against his former team wasn't needed, but Giants tight end Shockey provided it anyway by disparaging Parcells and the 'boys in a preseason magazine article.

"Chris Byrd vs. Fres Oquendo, Heavyweights" Saturday, Sept. 20 (HBO, 9:45 p.m. ET): Chris Byrd defends his IBF heavyweight title in a scheduled 12-round bout against Fres Oquendo from Uncasville, Conn. Byrd, 33, won the vacant title in a decision over former world champion Evander Holyfield in Dec. 2002, raising his record to 36-2 (20 KOs). The 30-year-old Oquendo (24-1, 15 KOs) is a five-time Chicago Golden Gloves champ who has recorded wins over the likes of Clifford Etienne, Bert Cooper and David Izon.

Sports Stumpers

Questions:

- 1) In what year did the New York Giants play their first game?
- 2) The team's first owner, Tim Mara, had a livelihood that was legal then, but today is not. Can you name it?
- 3) When did the Giants win their first championship?
- 4) At what age did Wellington Mara assume ownership of the Giants?
- 5) What two-time Super Bowl-winning coach played defensive back for six years for the Giants?

- 6) What Giant finished his career second all-time in sacks?
- 7) What stadium did the Giants call their temporary home in 1973 and 1974?
- 8) When the Giants traded quarterback Fran Tarkenton back to the Minnesota Vikings in 1972, whom did they acquire?
- 9) The Giants won two championships under Bill Parcells. Which Super Bowl opponents did they defeat?

Answers:

- 1) 1925.
- 2) Bookmaker.
- 3) 1927.
- 4) He was 14 when he took over with his brother Jack in 1930.
- 5) Tom Landry.
- 6) Lawrence Taylor.
- 7) The Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn.
- 8) Quarterback Norm Snead, wide receiver Bob Grim, running Vince Clements and two draft choices.

Play for a Billion

The opportunity to win $1 billion awaits 1,000 people who found specially marked soda-bottle caps in recent months, as this game show premieres with Drew Carey, Jamie Kennedy and Holly Robinson Peete as hosts. The initial pool of players will be reduced to 10 finalists, then to one person who will win at least $1 million — and possibly the full $1 billion — though a chimpanzee will determine the ultimate outcome (we aren't kidding).

Actress grateful for her success in life

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

Most days, she wakes up and pinches herself.

For Kathy Brier, who stars as Marcie Walsh in "One Life to Live" and as Tracy Turnblad in the Broadway show "Hairspray," life is an embarrassment of riches.

"I've had so many times through the years where I wondered how I was going to pay for dinner and if I would ever work again," Brier says. "Now, I'm doing what I love and have so much more than I could have ever imagined."

The actress has prepared for this since she did plays in high school. "I've always loved to sing, but focused on drama in school. They found out I could sing and the next thing I knew, I was doing musicals."

Her role in "OLTL" originally was for a few episodes, but the producers liked her so much, they brought her in as a regular.

"I wasn't sure what to think in the beginning because I'm more of a character actor than anything else. But, they've given me some great story lines," Brier says. "Marcie's been involved in a romance, dealt with her weight issues and free speech. All of this is so unexpected, and I know I keep saying it, but it's just the best."

The actress keeps a positive attitude about balancing her daytime duties with starring on Broadway.

"You know what? I've been given these two incredible opportunities and I'm just grateful. I've got a lot of energy, and I don't think I'll have trouble doing both. I mean, how cool is this?"

In other news: "OLTL" star James DePaiva (Max Holden) has taped his final scenes on the show. He says he isn't surprised, and has known for some time that he would be let go.

Dear Candace: Can you please tell me why Eileen Davidson, who plays Ashley on "The Young and the Restless," was gone for so long from the show? We were afraid maybe she was sick in real life, like her character on the show. -Maria S. in Florida.

Dear Reader: Davidson was on maternity leave. She and husband Vince Van Patten welcomed Jesse Thomas into the world on May 20. She's now back on the show full time.

Antiques Roadshow

The popular appraisal series begins a new season with host Dan Elias still on board, although he's slated to be replaced by "Good Morning America" correspondent

Lara Spencer in January. The new episodes start with a three-parter set in Cleveland, where an enameled watch made in the 1800s in Switzerland — but destined for sale in China — is examined by antiques experts. Also on tap is a watercolor painting of Cleveland circa 1851.

Daughter From Danang

The Oscar-nominated documentary focuses on the reunion of a Vietnamese woman and her Amerasian daughter, who were separated in 1975 when the mother sent her child to America in what was known as Operation Babylift. The girl was adopted and raised in Tennessee, where she kept her roots secret. Many years later, she sought her birth mother and went back to Vietnam — and into a culture clash.

Eve

Her character in the show is Shelly, but hip-hop star Eve has enough name recognition to be the title of this sitcom. Unmarried and seeking the ideal mate, Shelly gets a shot at bliss by dating a man (Jason George, "Platinum") who seems too "soft" for her, in the show's premiere episode, "Worst First Date Ever." She reconsiders when she runs into him again at a wedding. Ali Landry, a former Miss USA, and Natalie Desselle-Reid also star.

The Sacred Balance

In "The Fire of Creation," host David Suzuki continues his meditative study into the interconnection of all living things in an hour that explores how all life on Earth was forged, as it were, in the furnace of the sun. "The planet now has too much combustion and not enough fire," says contributor Stephen Pyne. "We need to recover our lost understanding of what fire means in the world."

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: The Man in the Moon

Now one of Hollywood's most popular and bankable young actresses, Reese Witherspoon had an early screen role in director Robert Mulligan's tender 1991 drama. She and Emily Warfield play small-town sisters in late-1950s Louisiana. They fall for the same young man (Jason London), creating household tension. Sam Waterston and Tess Harper also star as the girls' parents.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Big Brother 4

Who will be the latest person to have outlasted others during a summer spent in close quarters? It's almost time for the answer to be known, as host Julie Chen presides over another episode of the unscripted series. The strategizing is getting particularly intense, since one of the people still left in the house is very close to claiming the $500,000 grand prize.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

With his destiny apparent, Clark (Tom Welling) must decide whether to stay with Lana (Kristin Kreuk) and his Earth parents (John Schneider, Annette O'Toole) or fulfill his true calling in "Exodus," the concluding episode of a two-parter. Chloe (Allison Mack) mulls Lionel's (John Glover) request to probe Clark's past. Lex and Helen (Michael Rosenbaum, Emmanuelle Vaugier) try to move forward with wedding plans.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The West Wing

The president (Martin Sheen) has split his attention from his daughter's (Elisabeth Moss) abduction and a threat against America in "25." Washington, D.C., is shut down and military forces are sent to the Persian Gulf. The events of the day pivotally impact all White House staff members, including Toby (Richard Schiff), who still tries to find time to celebrate a personal triumph.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Movie: The Blue Diner

Miriam Colon ("Lone Star") and Lisa Vidal ("The Division") play mother and daughter in this drama. Living in Boston, the characters are at odds when the younger woman becomes unable to speak in her native Spanish. Her boyfriend's (William Marquez) efforts to secure a visa add even more strain.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Jake 2.0

Jake's (Christopher Gorham) abilities get a big test when he proves to be the NSA agent capable of stopping a potential bomber in the new episode "Training Day." The explosive device is electromagnetic, meaning incalculable devastation if it goes off in Washington, D.C.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

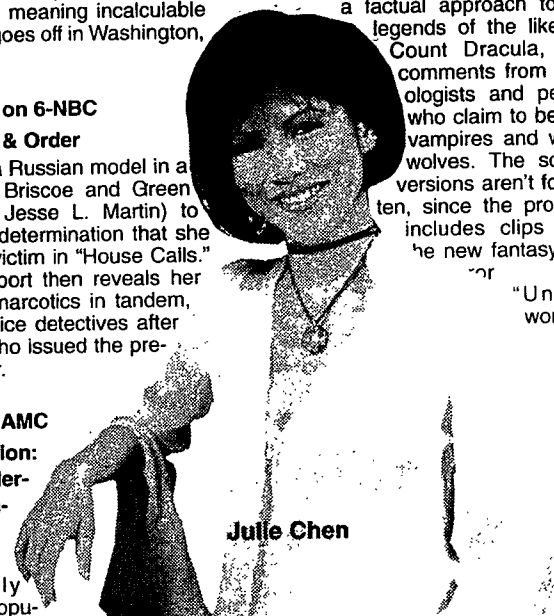

The death of a Russian model in a boutique leads Briscoe and Green (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin) to make an initial determination that she was an abuse victim in "House Calls." A toxicology report then reveals her use of several narcotics in tandem, sending the police detectives after the physician who issued the prescriptions to her.

9 p.m. on AMC

Fang vs. Fiction: The Real Underworld of Vampires and Werewolves

Otherworldly creatures are popular sources of movie chills and thrills, but some have prompted serious scientific studies. This new special takes a factual approach to the legends of the likes of Count Dracula, with comments from sociologists and people who claim to be real vampires and werewolves. The screen versions aren't forgotten, since the program includes clips from the new fantasy-horror film "Underworld."

Threat Matrix

A Homeland Security task force dedicated to safeguarding the United States against threats, both domestic and international, is at the heart of this new adventure series. James Denton ("The Pretender") plays the former FBI agent who leads the unit, using traditional weaponry as well as high-tech means of battling enemies. Kelly Rutherford ("Melrose Place") plays his ex-wife, who's also on the team. Will Lyman and Melora Walters also star.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Survivor: Pearl Islands

It's time for a Tribal Council to convene again: Another 16 competitors go to an exotic locale to face challenges in the pursuit of a $1 million grand prize, as host Jeff Probst returns to preside over the seventh round of the unscripted series. This time, an island chain off the coast of Panama is the setting as people of various backgrounds show their mettle — or lack of it — in trying to outwit, outplay and outlast their rivals.

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB

The Jamie Kennedy Experiment

The actor-comedian starts a new season of his series by impersonating a stylist at the salon of the famous Jose Eber (who appears as himself). The makeup job Kennedy does on one client leaves quite a bit to be desired. Later, Holly Robinson Peete joins Kennedy in tricking her brother into believing she's cheating on her husband, NFL quarterback Rodney Peete. Amanda Bynes ("What I Like About You") also appears in the episode.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

What I Like About You

Henry (Michael McMillian) feels abandoned when an overextended Holly (Amanda Bynes) isn't available to stand by him when he gets his wisdom teeth pulled in the new episode "Boys' Club." Val (Jennie Garth) becomes so upset with the male-centric office atmosphere under her new boss (Stephen Dunham) that she quits.

Wanda at Large

Wanda Sykes launches the second season of her comedy series with "The Favor," as the fictional Wanda tries to disprove Keith's (Dale Godboldo) skepticism over her efforts to land an interview with a troubled athlete. She finally gets her opportunity for the chat, which will put her back in contact with her ex-husband (guest star Dave Chappelle) — causing Wanda to debate whether the "get" is worth it.

7 p.m. on BRAV

Movie: Life Is Beautiful

Roberto Benigni wrote, directed and stars in this Oscar-winning 1997 film set in 1930s Italy. High-spirited Guido Orefice (Benigni) relocates to a large Tuscan town, then meets and weds a local schoolteacher (Nicoletta Braschi). After Germany invades Italy, the family is torn apart and sent to concentration camps. But Guido refuses to lose his spirit and protects his son (Giorgio Cantarini) from the horrors surrounding them.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Boston Public

Ronnie (Jeri Ryan) is determined to seek justice for an apparent victim (Amanda Fuller) of attempted rape — even if the student denies she was assaulted — as producer David E. Kelley's high-school drama begins its new season with "Chapter Sixty-Seven." After observing what looks like an attack, Ronnie reports the incident to authorities. Harper (Chi McBride) confronts Guber (Anthony Heald) about making unapproved decisions.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Grounded for Life

Sean and Eddie

Jeri Ryan

(Donal Logue, Kevin Fitzgerald Corrigan) encourage Brad (Bret Harrison) to fight back against a basketball-star bully (guest star Sam Honigan) in the new episode "I Right the Wrongs." Lily (Lynsey Bartilson) then has to bail Brad out when he gets into even deeper trouble.

8:30 p.m. on 38-WB

All About the Andersons

Anthony (Anthony Anderson) prepares for the first date he's had in a decade in the new episode "Don't Be a Dater Hater." Not knowing how to explain his return to the social circuit to Tuga (Damani Roberts), Anthony seeks input from his parents (John Amos, Roz Ryan).

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Wife, mother, daytime talk show co-host, soon-to-be prime-time star ... Kelly Ripa is doing it all, but does it ever get to be too much for her? Bank on Barbara Walters finding out as she talks with Ripa in this new installment. The timing of the chat is hardly coincidental, since Ripa's new ABC sitcom "Hope & Faith" is about to debut.

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC Miss America

Many traditions stay the same, including the swimsuit competition — to the pleasure of many and the chagrin of others — but the beauty pageant gets a new master of ceremonies in this telecast from Boardwalk Hall in Atlantic City, N.J. He's Tom Bergeron, the Emmy winner who hosts "Hollywood Squares" and "America's Funniest Home Videos." The exiting Miss America, Erika Harold of Illinois, crowns her successor.

7 p.m. and AMC Movie: The Shootist

John Wayne delivers a heart-wrenching performance in his final role as a well-known gunslinger who learns he is dying of cancer. He is determined to live his final days in peace, but soon discovers he cannot escape his reputation. This 1976 Western features a dynamic supporting cast that includes Lauren Bacall, Ron Howard, James Stewart, Harry Morgan and Richard Boone.

7 p.m. on BRAV Movie: Pollock

In an evident labor of love, Ed Harris directs and stars in this warts-and-all 2002 chronicle of the life and career of abstract impressionist Jackson Pollock. He was tortured by the twin demons of booze and insecurity. He gained welcome, if temporary, respite from artist Lee Krasner (Marcia Gay Harden, in an Oscar-winning performance), who essentially put her own career on hold to be Pollock's wife, champion and caregiver.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS Hack

In the conclusion of "The Squeeze," Marcellus (Andre Braugher) falls prey to a blackmail plot hatched by a gangster (guest star Ritchie Coster) to make Marcellus take the fall for a murder. Olshansky (David Morse) faces possible jail time, and implicating Marcellus for alleged police corruption may be his only way out. Bebe Neuwirth ("Cheers") guest stars.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC Law & Order

An amateur video shot by a tourist couple may provide the only clues that Briscoe and Green (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin) have to finding the killer of an actress in "Tragedy on Rye." McCoy and Southerlyn (Sam Waterston, Elisabeth Rohm) find their case compromised when the couple sells the video to a TV station that might not turn it over for courtroom purposes.

8:45 p.m. on HBO Boxing

Chris Byrd defends his IBF heavyweight title in a scheduled 12-round bout against Fres Oquendo from Uncasville, Conn. Byrd, 33, won the vacant title in a decision over former world champion Evander Holyfield in December 2002, raising his record to 36-2 (20 KOs). The 30-year-old Oquendo (24-1, 15 KOs) is a five-time Chicago Golden Gloves champion who has recorded wins over the likes of Clifford Etienne, Bert Cooper and David Izon.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS The District

Suddenly jobless, Mannion (Craig T. Nelson) — who continues to mourn the death of Ella (Lynne Thigpen) — seems to have wide-open options in "Into the Sunset." The course he decides to follow becomes clearer as he helps a policeman track down a drug kingpin and several corrupt cops in Arizona. Jean Smart and Jaclyn Smith reprise their earlier guest roles.

9:30 p.m. on TNT Movie: Ghostbusters

This spirited comedy was the summer blockbuster of 1984, and the years haven't diluted its dry wit. Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd, Harold Ramis and Ernie Hudson star as ghost exterminators who are quickly promoted from capturing the occasional poltergeist to saving the world when a powerful demon tries to take Manhattan. Sigourney Weaver plays the pretty musician who catches the eye of Murray's character. Rick Moranis co-stars.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"ANGER MANAGEMENT": Although they seem unlikely co-stars, Adam Sandler and Jack Nicholson get considerable mileage out of their teamwork in this comedy. Sandler plays a meek businessman wrongly deemed "out of control" because of a misunderstanding on an airplane. A judge (Lynne Thigpen) orders him to undergo therapy with a counselor (Nicholson) who stokes any and all repressed anger. Marisa Tomei co-stars as Sandler's girlfriend. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by Sandler and director Peter Segal; "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes and outtakes; "Do You Have Anger Problems?" game.  (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"CONFIDENCE": A con artist (Edward Burns) wants to even the score for a friend's murder, but has to watch his own back at the same time, in director James Foley's ("Glengarry Glen Ross") extremely well-cast drama. The schemer owes a mobster (Dustin Hoffman), so he tries to pay off that debt while also achieving what he seeks. Rachel Weisz ("The Mummy") plays a pickpocket who joins the con man's team; Andy Garcia, Paul Giamatti, Donal Logue and Luis Guzman co-star. DVD extras: audio commentaries by Foley, screenwriter Doug Jung, and cast members; "making-of"

Video Vantage

documentary; deleted scenes.  (R: AS, P, V)

"ALL I WANT": A solid cast does much for this reasonably simple yet affecting tale of a young man's coming of age. Elijah Wood ("The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring") has the central role as a college student who begins to question his life choices after moving into an apartment building and getting to know his neighbors. The two who have the most impact on him are played by Franka Potente ("Run Lola Run") and singer-actress Mandy Moore ("How to Deal"). DVD extras: theatrical trailer.  (R: AS, P)

"BANG, BANG, YOU'RE DEAD": A troubled student (Ben Foster) seems prone to endanger his peers in this made-for-Showtime adaptation of William Mastrosimone's play, written prior to the Columbine tragedy. A drama teacher (Tom Cavanagh, "Ed") tries to avert a potential crisis by letting the youth play out his anxieties in a production about school violence. However, the teen makes a movie implying that real violence is on the horizon. Janel Moloney ("The West Wing") co-stars.  (R: AS, P, V)

"SOAP: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON": It seems pretty tame by today's standards, but when it premiered on ABC in 1977, this witty satire of daytime dramas was as scandalous as television got at the time. Katherine Helmond and Cathryn Damon play Jessica Tate and Mary Campbell, sisters whose relatives and acquaintances provide endless dilemmas for anyone within arm's reach. The show made a star of Billy Crystal, who played one of series television's first gay characters; also featured in this three-disc DVD set are Richard Mulligan ("Empty Nest"), Robert Man-

dan, Diana Canova and - as deliciously caustic servant Benson, who earned his own spinoff - Robert Guillaume.  (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"BIONICLE: MASK OF LIGHT": Stunning computer animation fuels this adventure, based on a popular series of Lego toys, about the efforts of three brave people trying to protect their island chain from an evil force. The region is protected by a spirit that is disabled by the enemy, spelling destruction for the islands unless the heroes can reverse the sleep-inducing spell and restore the area's defenses. Despite the animated approach of the film, parents should note that its imagery could alarm very young viewers. DVD extras: audio commentary by the filmmakers; "making-of" documentary; deleted scenes.  (PG: P, V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"DADDY DAY CARE" (Sept. 23): Eddie Murphy plays a family man who decides to open a day-care center at home, but the project poses bigger challenges than he expected. (PG: P)

"HOLES" (Sept. 23): A teenager (Shia LaBeouf) is sent to a detention camp where all of the youths are forced to dig holes; Sigourney Weaver and Jon Voight co-star. (PG: P)

"A MIGHTY WIND" (Sept. 23): Folk singers, not all of whom get along, reunite for a tribute concert in director and co-star Christopher Guest's comedy; Michael McKean also appears. (PG-13: AS, P)

"THE SHAPE OF THINGS" (Sept. 23): A young woman (Rachel Weisz) sets out to remold her boyfriend (Paul Rudd) in the screen version of Neil LaBute's play. (R: AS, P)

On TV

Viewers should step right up to explore wonders of 'Carnivale'

By John Crook
© Zap2it

The first skirmishes in what will become an apocalyptic battle between good and evil play out against the stark backdrop of Depression-era America in "Carnivale," a provocative new fantasy series premiering Sunday, Sept. 14, on HBO.

Almost drunk on its own fantastic imagery, the 12-episode series follows a seedy traveling carnival as it makes its way across the great 1934 Dust Bowl, focusing on Ben Hawkins (Nick Stahl, "In the Bedroom"), an enigmatic young man who possesses hidden powers, as well as Brother Justin Crowe (Clancy Brown), a charismatic but oddly sinister evangelist who eventually will cross Ben's path.

As the story opens, Ben, a chain-gang fugitive, is picked up after his mother's death by members of a carnival run by an unseen impresario known only as "Management." Samson (Michael J. Anderson, "Twin Peaks"), Management's liaison with the company, and Sofie (Clea DuVall, "The Laramie Project"), a tarot card reader, are wary but sympathetic to the new company member, but Lodz (Patrick Bauchau, "The Pretender"), a blind mentalist and visionary, receives horrifying mental images surrounding Ben.

All in all, it's fertile ground for the epic fantasy to follow, as well as a rich and quirky role in which the 23-year-old Stahl makes his TV series acting debut.

"Doing a series, something with a character that evolves throughout a season, is something I hadn't done before," Stahl says of his 18-year-old character. "When I read the pilot, it was very clear this character was someone who had a power that has been somewhat repressed."

"But as the season goes on, you learn more about his past and his family and things that were sort of a mystery at the beginning of the season. Ben is someone with ... this (uncanny) ability, and I really didn't look beyond that, because past that, it's about ... real relationships. It's an ensemble drama, really."

"Carnivale" series creator Dan Knauf, who cast Stahl without an audition, says he knew that finding the right actor to play Ben was key to the entire series. If anything, he adds, Stahl has exceeded his expectations.

"Nick is just an extraordinary actor," Knauf says. "He does things that aren't in the script, small things that make a huge difference."

"Ben is very closed as a character. He's not going to sit down and tell you his back story, which just makes me feel like my brain is being sucked out when a character does that. But with Nick, you get this sense of reserve on top of a lot of (stuff) that is churning underneath. You sense that this is a deeply hurt young man, a highly defective young man who has seen more pain already than you or I will see in four or five lifetimes."

The seed for this drama, which Knauf envisions playing out over "no more than six years but no fewer than three," was planted back in the '80s, as Knauf took an early morning stroll past where a traveling carnival was setting up.

"I saw these carnies sleeping under the trucks, and it hit me: 'These guys don't just clock in. This is their life,'" Knauf recalls. "That was so intriguing and romantic that I wanted to explore this world that was so far outside the norms of society."

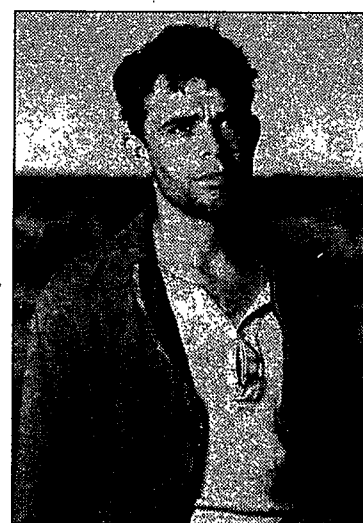

"I've always loved carnivals, ever since I was a kid. They are so much more dangerous than theme parks. When you're a kid, you have one experience, then it becomes sexually charged when you are a teenager, and it's different still when you're an adult."

Knauf also was an ardent fan of Tod Browning's unsettling movie "Freaks," especially since he had grown up in a home with a father who was confined to a wheelchair after a childhood bout with polio. While his father was perfectly capable of supporting his family, Knauf noticed that people viewed his dad as "different," if not weird and sinister, simply because of his handicap.

Knauf began trying to write "Carnivale" back in the early '90s, first as a feature film, a notion he quickly abandoned. Next, he thought in terms of a network miniseries, but realized network standards would make it impossible to be true to the tale he wanted to tell.

"The Stand" is one of my favorite Stephen King books, in terms of working on that epic scale, but the network miniseries of that disappointed me because it had to be cleaned up so much," he explains. "The book is really gritty and network standards just wouldn't allow showing some of that stuff. I never could have done 'Carnivale' on network TV, especially having to think in terms of building to each commercial break."

Nick Stahl ("Terminator 3: Rise of the Machines") stars as Ben Hawkins, an enigmatic chain-gang fugitive with mysterious powers, in "Carnivale," a fantasy series premiering Sunday on HBO.

ORECK

Nothing gets by an Oreck®

Oreck Direct, LLC 100 Plantation Road, New Orleans, LA 70123

You can buy this iron for $130.
Or you can have it free.

Try my amazing 8-lb. vacuum free of charge for 30 days, and my $130 Cordless Iron is your gift.

HI, I'M DAVID ORECK AND I WANT YOU TO CLEAN YOUR HOME FOR A MONTH ON ME ABSOLUTELY FREE. THERE'S NOTHING TO BUY, EVEN THE SHIPPING IS FREE!

My next generation Oreck XL® with the Violet Blue Dirt Search® is a giant step forward in American ingenuity. At barely 8 lbs., it takes the hard work out of house work. In fact, it has so many work-saving features you'll wonder why all vacuums aren't this thoroughly thought out. It features MicroSweep™, which lets you pick up sand off bare floors. It adjusts to every thickness of carpet, and automatically goes from carpets to bare floors. To really clean under beds and furniture, it lays flat. Our exclusive Helping Hand® handle eliminates stress and strain on your wrist, forearm and elbow. Thanks to its top-fill design, it won't spew a cloud of dust every time you turn it on. Plus, my Oreck XL is hypo-allergenic, trapping 99.9% of all harmful allergens as small as 1/250th the width of a human hair. And odds are you'd go through three other vacuums in the time you own one 8-lb. Oreck XL.

WITH ORECK, YOU GET A COMPLETE SYSTEM.

For above-the-floor cleaning, I'll give you my $165 Super Compact Canister, with eight attachments, absolutely free with purchase of an Oreck XL. Hand held, or shoulder worn, this little 5-lb. dynamo is great for those hard-to-reach places, like ceilings, blinds, lampshades, and bookshelves.

IF YOU DON'T LOVE MY VACUUM, DON'T KEEP IT.

BUT KEEP THE $130 IRON.

My Oreck Cord Free Speed Iron® is a great work saver. You'll iron in much less time. And it's yours with no strings attached. Why do I give away gifts? It's simple. Nine out of 10 people who try an Oreck, buy an Oreck. So get your iron now, but hurry, this offer is limited.

Free Shipping.
Try Before
You Buy.

My 8-lb. Oreck XL is hotel proven, built to last twice as long and comes with this free
Super Compact Canister.

Scooby-Doo™ and You Sweepstakes

No Purchase Necessary to Enter or Win. See rules on this page for more details.
Official Rules. How to enter: 1) Visit www.gp.com/sparkle between 12:00 noon Eastern Time (ET) on 9/14/03 and 11:59 AM ET on 11/17/03 (the "promotion period") and complete and submit the Official Online Entry Form; or 2) hand print your complete name, address, ZIP code and telephone number on a plain 3" x 5" piece of paper and mail in an envelope beginning on 9/14/03 to be postmarked by 11/17/03 and received by 11/24/03 to: Scooby-Doo™ and You Sweepstakes, P.O. Box 14031, Bridgeport, CT 06673-4031. You may enter by mail as often as you like, but each mail-in entry must be mailed separately. ONLY ONE ONLINE ENTRY PER PERSON AND PER E-MAIL ADDRESS WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR THE DURATION OF THE PROMOTION PERIOD. IN CASE OF MULTIPLE ONLINE ENTRIES FROM ANY ONE PERSON OR E-MAIL ADDRESS, ONLY THE FIRST ONLINE ENTRY WILL BE ACCEPTED. In the event of a dispute over the identity of an online entrant based on e-mail address submitted, entry will be deemed submitted by the primary holder of the e-mail account. "Primary holder" is defined as the person assigned to an e-mail account by the entity responsible for assigning e-mail accounts for the domain associated with the entry in question. Mechanically reproduced, photocopied or facsimile entries are void. The use of any device to automate entry is prohibited. Georgia-Pacific Corporation ("Sponsor") is not responsible for lost, incomplete, stolen, damaged, illegible, garbled, late, postage-due or misdirected entries or mail, inaccurate entry or other Sweepstakes-related information or failures or malfunctions of Internet connections, phones, telephones, fax machines, or other malfunctions or errors, whether caused by equipment, programming used in this Sweepstakes, processing errors or otherwise, or for printing or other errors appearing in these rules, or other Sweepstakes materials. Sponsor reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to void any entries of entrants who Sponsor believes has attempted to tamper with or impair the administration, security, fairness or proper play of this Sweepstakes. All entries become the property of Sponsor and will not be returned. Winner Selection: Winners will be selected in a random drawing conducted on or about 12/15/03 from among all eligible entries received by Project Support Team, Inc., an independent judging organization. By participating, entrants agree to these Official Rules and to the decisions of the judges, which will be final and binding in all respects. Winners will be notified by telephone and/or overnight mail and/or mail. Odds of winning depend upon the total number of eligible entries received. Each entry, whether submitted via online or by mail, will have an equal chance of winning. Prizes: (1) Grand Prize: 5-day/4-night trip for 5 to Hollywood, CA consisting of round-trip coach air transportation from major airport nearest winner's residence in the U.S., two standard double occupancy hotel accommodations, ground transportation from the airport, a behind-the-scenes/VIP tour at Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Animation Studio, an animation cel (animated print of winner and guests with the Scooby-Doo™ Gang) and a total of $1,000 spending money awarded in the form of a check. Trip must be taken by 12/15/04. Reservations are subject to space availability at time of request. Blackout dates and other travel and accommodation restrictions may apply. Grand Prize winner and guests must travel together on same itinerary. Trip itineraries are at Sponsor's sole discretion. If the behind-the-scenes/VIP tour at Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Animation Studio is unavailable at the time of the trip, winner will receive prize minus the tour and animation cel (which will be replaced with something of like value determined by Sponsor). Approximate Retail Value ("ARV") = $10,000. Actual value may vary based upon location of winner's residence. (2003) First Prize: Monster of Mexico video. ARV = $14.95. (2003) Second Prize: Mystery Machine Rolling suitcase. ARV = $14.50. (4000) Third Prize: Mid-Size Scooby-Doo™ Rolling backpack. ARV = $9.00. (8000) Fourth Prize: Denim "It's Scooby-Doo™" Hat. ARV = $4.75. Total ARV of all prizes = $24,785. Taxes, if any, gratuities, insurance and any other expenses not specifically stated herein are the sole responsibility of the winners. All prizes will be awarded. Eligibility: Sweepstakes open to legal residents of the 50 United States and the District of Columbia 18 years of age or older as of 9/14/03. Employees of Georgia-Pacific Corporation, Project Support Team, Inc., their respective parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, retailers, distributors, suppliers, advertising and promotion agencies and each employee's immediate family member (mother, father, sister, brother, any child, husband, wife) and those living in their same households are not eligible to win a prize. Void where prohibited by law. If entrant is a winner, entrant's name, city and state of residence, photograph and/or likeness for advertising, trade and/or any other purposes in any media now or hereafter known without further compensation, permission or notification; and 2, the aforementioned parties, The Cartoon Network, Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc., Project Support Team, Inc. and all of their respective officers, directors, shareholders, employees, representatives and agents including Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Studio and/or Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Animation Studio shall have no liability and will be held harmless by entrant for any claim, action, liability, loss, injury or damage to entrant or any other person or entity, including, without limitation, personal injury or death to entrant or any other person or entity, arising out of or in connection with the Sweepstakes, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, by reason of the acceptance, possession, use or misuse of a prize and any travel or travel-related activity thereof (including Warner Bros. Entertainment Inc. Studio tour) or participation in this promotion. Limit one prize per person or household. Sponsor reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to modify, suspend and/or terminate this Sweepstakes should virus, bugs, nonauthorized human intervention or other causes beyond the control of Sponsor corrupt or impair the administration, security, fairness or proper play of the Sweepstakes and, in the case of suspension or termination, at its discretion, select winners from eligible non-suspect entries received prior to event causing such termination or suspension. Winners List: For the names of the winners, available after 1/15/04, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to be received by 1/15/04 to: Scooby-Doo™ and You Winners, P.O. Box 13106, Bridgeport, CT 06673-3106. Sponsor: Georgia-Pacific Corporation, 133 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, GA 30303. Administrator: Project Support Team, Inc., 100 Mill Plain Road, Danbury, CT 06811. PEDIGREE[®] WITH "HEALTHY NUGGETS"[™] INSTANT WIN GAME OFFICIAL RULES

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY. A PURCHASE WILL NOT INCREASE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING. GAME BEGINS 9/1/03 AND ENDS 4/1/04. 1. GAME PIECES: Official game piece appears in specially marked packages of PEDIGREE[®] WITH "HEALTHY NUGGETS"[™] Products. For a free game piece and Official Rules, while supplies last, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Game Piece, P.O. Box 680, Rutherford, NJ 08077-0680. (NJ residents may omit return postage.) Requests must be received by 3/15/04. Limit one request per outer envelope. Game pieces not transferable. Game ends 4/1/04. Game pieces void if defaced, mutilated, forged, illegible, reproduced, altered and/or not obtained through authorized channels. 2. TO PLAY: If official game piece says "Instant Winner", you win prize indicated, subject to verification. 3. PRIZES AND ODDS (ASSUMING DISTRIBUTION OF ALL GAME PIECES): (1) Grand Prize: $100,000 cash. Odds 1:2,110,000. (50) First Prizes: $1,000 of PEDIGREE[®] Products awarded as fifty (50) $20 coupons. Odds 1:42,200. ARV $1,000. (100) Second Prizes: $100 of PEDIGREE[®] Products awarded as five (5) $20 coupons. Odds 1:21,100. ARV $100. Total ARV of all prizes: $160,000. Coupons must be redeemed in accordance with the terms and conditions stated thereon. Limit one prize per household. Sponsor reserves right to substitute prizes of equal or greater value. No other substitution or transfer of prizes permitted. Sponsor responsible only for delivery of prize, not responsible for prize utility, quality or otherwise. Taxes and fees, if any, are the sole responsibility of prize winners. 4. INSTANT WIN PRIZE CLAIMS: Sign the winning game piece, retain photocopy of the winning game piece, and mail original game piece together with your name, address and telephone number and age clearly printed on a 3" x 5" piece of paper to: PEDIGREE[®] Brand Instant Win Game, c/o Ventura Associates, Inc., Dept. JC, 1040 Sixth Ave., New York, NY 10018. PRIZE CLAIMS MUST BE RECEIVED BY 4/1/04. Proof of mailing does not constitute proof of delivery. Grand Prize winner will be notified approximately 6 weeks after verified claim, but not before 1/1/04. Allow 6-8 weeks for delivery of other prizes. Unclaimed prizes will be awarded in a Second Chance Drawing described below (assuming sufficient number of eligible entries). No more than the stated number of prizes will be awarded. In the unlikely event that winning game pieces for any prize level are distributed in numbers greater than the number stated in these rules for such prize level, that stated number of winners will be selected in a random drawing from among all verified prize claims received for that prize level. 5. SECOND CHANCE DRAWING: Any prizes not claimed by 4/1/04 will be awarded in a Second Chance Sweepstakes, assuming a sufficient number of entries. To enter, print your name, address, telephone number with area code and age on a 3" x 5" piece of paper and mail to: Second Chance Drawing, P.O. Box 681, Rutherford, NJ 08077-0681. ALL ENTRIES MUST BE RECEIVED BY 4/1/04. No mechanically reproduced, illegible, incomplete, forged or altered entries will be accepted. Enter as often as you wish, but each entry must be mailed separately. Winners will be determined from all eligible entries received in a random drawing to be conducted on or about 4/15/04. Odds of winning depend upon the number of eligible entries received. Winners will be notified by overnight delivery or first class mail. 6. ELIGIBILITY: Game/Drawing open to individual legal residents of the United States (including Puerto Rico and U.S. territories and possessions) who are 21 years of age or older as of 9/1/03, except employees (and their immediate families and members of the same household) of Sponsor, its affiliates, agents, judges, and advertising and promotion agencies. 7. VERIFICATION OF WINNERS AND DELIVERY OF PRIZES: Prize claims subject to verification, and drawing to be conducted, by an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final on all matters relating to this Game/Drawing. Winners may be required to sign an Affidavit of Eligibility and Liability Release and, where permitted, a Publicity Release. Prize may be awarded to alternate winner if Affidavit/Release(s) is not returned within 14 days after mailing to winner or if prize notification letter or prize is returned as undeliverable. Winners agree to use of name, address, likeness, and/or prize information for promotional purposes in any medium without additional compensation to the extent permitted by law. Any such use with respect to minors to be subject to prior approval of parent or legal guardian. Prize claims and entries are sole property of Masterfoods USA and will not be returned. 8. GENERAL: This Game/Drawing is void where prohibited or restricted by law and is subject to applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations. Sponsor and judges not responsible for lost, late, damaged, postage due, incomplete, incorrect and/or misdirected entries, prize claims or mail. By participating in Game/Drawing, entrants accept conditions stated in these rules, agree to be bound by decisions of the judges and warrant that they are eligible to participate in Game/Drawing. By accepting prize, winner agrees to release Sponsor, its directors, employees, officers, and agents, including without limitation, its advertising and promotion agencies, from any and all liability, loss or damages arising from or in connection with the awarding, receipt, and/or use or misuse of prize or participation in any prize-related activities. 9. WINNERS LIST: To obtain list of prizewinners, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Winners List, P.O. Box 682, Rutherford, NJ 08077-0682. Requests must be received by 4/15/04. Winners list will be sent after selection of winners. 10. SPONSOR: Masterfoods USA, 3250 East 44th Street, Vernon, CA 90058. ©/TM Trademarks. © Mars, Incorporated 2003.
